Easter treats

The 10th annual Great Marshmallow Drop, sponsored by the Wayne County Park System and WNIC 100.3, delighted hundreds of children that dashed across Nankin Mills Park in Westland on Good Friday. Participants gathered up marshmallows from the 20,000 dropped from a helicopter to redeem them for prizes. Road millage due in future?

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Will there be a new road millage in Romulus' future? Mayor Beverly McAnally and most of the city council are aware that many of the roads in the city are breaking up and are in generally poor condition.

Veteran City Councilman Ellis Pennington raised a number of roadway issues recently, complaining that some culverts and roadway ditches are filling with water even before the rainy season arrived.

In the Hudson and Garner Road area, Pennington said the road ditches are definitely filled with water. Even on parts of Ozga Road where $250,000 homes have been constructed in recent years, water extends over some driveways, he said.

When Pennington added Harrison Road, between Northline and Eureka, to the list of road problems, McAnally urged the councilman to look at the current city budget.

But Pennington pressed on. "What are we going to do with these roads and when? It soon will be the rainy season and we need to protect what roads we've got."

McAnally told Pennington that, "if its ditch cleaning you're talking about, we can do something about that. But if its paving, that's a totally different matter. It will take millions of dollars to handle that!"

The mayor reminded Pennington that the city gave local residents a road millage option several years ago that would have seen 80 percent of the road upgrades being paid by business and industry. But the millage was turned down.

"I feel that a city-wide road millage is the only option we have. But we need to have a proper plan to present, one that will outline what we plan to do, the time period it will take and the length of the millage collection," McAnally said.

"Many persons out there today are aware of their missed opportunity. But it will take a unified effort in the future to correct and update our road system," the mayor said.

McAnally reported that the city currently is spending enormous amounts of money patching up our roads, and even the contractor hired to effect those patching jobs is telling us such actions are not cost effective.

At a cost of about $25 per homeowner, McAnally said, many of the city's worst road situations could be greatly improved. We need to explain to the people that they need to help us with projects they want accomplished, McAnally said.

The city has been criticized for not having a large fund balance on hand, McAnally said, but when we have had one in the past we returned it to the citizens by cutting taxes.

The city needs to devise a three-prong plan for its roads (listed above), McAnally stressed, as well as getting the public to join in the solution.

Romulus husband gives wife a kidney

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Easter Sunday took on a special meaning for a Romulus couple this year.

Just days before Easter, Chris Bell donated a kidney to his wife, Toni Kenosian, bringing with it the chance of a new life.

Last Wednesday, Bell presented his wife of five years with one of his kidneys at the University of Michigan Medical Center.

His wife has been on dialysis for up to three days a week for more than a year, after a combination of diabetes and high blood pressure began killing her kidneys.

Kenosian, who has two children, 8 and 7, revealed she had a hard time thinking about accepting a dead person's kidney.

While she knew she would ultimately accept it, the possibility disturbed her. That is why she was thrilled, when her husband offered his great gift of love -- one of his own kidneys.

She never asked her husband for the gift, Kenosian said, but he alone made that decision last November.

While it takes time to make a decision such as donating a body part, Bell said, "When you love your wife and kids, you'll do anything for them."

After undergoing the needed preliminary tests, U of M doctors proceeded with the surgery last week.

Kenosian exclaimed shortly before the surgery, "I'm looking forward to getting my life back. You don't have a life when you're hooked to a machine."

Hospital sources say Bell was released over the weekend and that Kenosian is listed in good condition.

Fifty-two such transplants have been performed at the center in the past 12 months, a spokesman reported.

Driver held for striking officer

A 35-year-old Romulus motorist, who led Michigan and Ohio municipal police on a 100-mile-per hour chase through four counties, is facing an attempted murder charge for smashing his stolen truck into a Southgate police car.

The defendant, David Storm of Romulus, is in Lucas County (Ohio) jail, awaiting extradition to Michigan, following medical treatment at a Toledo hospital.

The Wayne County Prosecutor's office has already issued a four-count warrant against Storm, charging him with attempted murder, breaking and entering of a motor vehicle and two counts of malicious destruction of police property.

Because Storm reportedly has a police record dating back 22 years, Brownstown Township police Lt. Steve Nemeth has charged the defendant with being a habitual criminal.

Some of his earlier charges included auto theft, robbery and burglary both in Michigan and in New York state.

Now if convicted of any charges pressed against him, Storm faces double penalties.

City presses Raspberry on missing permits

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Potential city ordinance violations against City Councilman Jimmie Raspberry in connection with the moving of an existing home from 6070 Inkster Road to 36221 Beverly Road back in 1990 are now being investigated by City Ordinance Director Steven Banko. The memorandum from Willie B. Watson, assistant director of the city's Building, Safety and Engineering Department, should have reached Banko's office by this week, Watson said Tuesday.

The house, a single family residence once owned by Best Way Inc., was obtained by Raspberry in 1990.

Raspberry, in open city council sessions, has stated he (or contractors he has hired) have pulled all the proper permits needed in the matter.

He has openly told citizens criticizing his efforts that it is none of their "damn" business, what he does with his money.

Recently the city council informed the administration of Mayor Beverly McAnally that it was their responsibility to investigate the matter.

The memorandum to Banko states the following permits were not secured:

- pre-inspection of the residence prior to the moving.
- permit for moving the residence from one site to the other.

- permit for demolition and removal of foundation of the Inkster road site.
- building permit for a residential footing along with a certified site grade for the Beverly road site.

- mechanical permit for gas pressure test.
- plumbing permit for drain to sewer connection.
- residential certificate of occupancy.

Watson's note also states that the Water Department and Department of Public Works may have concerns regarding the house.

ROMULUS NEWS DIGEST

Softball teams being sought

Both male and female softball teams are currently being sought by the Romulus Recreation Department to complete spring leagues.

Keith Brothers, league coordinator, reported that the sign-up deadlines for the teams is 5 p.m. April 24 at the recreation department offices on Bibbins Street in Romulus.

Brothers said the women's league plays Mondays and Wednesdays at 6:30, 7:35, 8:45 and 9:45 p.m.

Each team needs a written roster containing up to 25 players, who are 18 years or older. Each team needs a deposit of $400.

Brothers said the teams are urged to field 10 players, but can play with only nine in emergencies.

The men's A Division plays Fridays at 6:30, 7:40, 8:50 and 10 p.m. Six more teams are being sought for this division that plays 14 games.

A men's B Division already has seven teams and needs one more team. Both men's division teams require a $500 sign-up fee.

For more information call 942-6852.

School offers mini-symposium

A two-hour mini-community domestic violence symposium will be offered free to the public on April 26 by Romulus High School students.

The program funded by a Serve-Michigan grant will begin at 7 p.m. in the school auditorium. The first session will begin at 7:15 p.m. and the second at 8:05 p.m. A closing report will be offered at 8:55.

Further information can be obtained by calling Kathy Hurst at 941-2170.

Democrat caucus to meet May 13

Congresswoman Lynn Rivers will be one of the featured speakers at the 13th Congressional District African-American Democratic Caucus on May 13 at the Royce Hotel.

Also speaking at the 9 a.m. breakfast will be Inkster City Clerk Delphine Oden.

Voter Registration-Education Committee Chairman Jim Netter reported that the new federal laws pertaining to voting and registration education will be discussed.

Ground breaking set April 26

The ground breaking for the new terminal for Alvan Motor Freight Inc. of Kalamazoo is scheduled for 10 a.m. April 26 at 9911 Harrison Road.

The new facility is the largest in the Alvan system with 5,000 square feet of office and 45,000 square feet of dock-warehouse space with 78 loading doors.

It will be located on a site that contains more than 16 acres.

Chairman Charles A. Van Zoeren said the 54-year-old firm offers direct service throughout four other mid-western states: Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Wisconsin. It also maintains partnerships with carriers covering all of Canada.

Good News set for next week

Area residents are reminded that the next Romulus-Belleville Good News edition will be published on April 27. That publication contains many positive stories on area students, community activists and neighborhoods.

Indians tell students We are people, not football logos

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Romulus Middle School students and other area youth gathered last Thursday to hear a group of Native Americans work to dispel stereotypes Hollywood has cast on Indian life in America.

Armed with a Close Up Foundation grant and the help of a half dozen American Indian mentors, 46 Romulus students from Charles Kidwell's history classes conducted a day-long American Indian Symposium for not only their fellow students, but for those from many nearby school districts.

The symposium studies centered on the following issues: Indian dance, folklore, spirituality, treaties, history, games, arts and crafts.

Poor weather in the morning forced Thurman Bear of the Ojibwe (Chippewa) tribe to conduct his smudge purification ceremonies indoors.

Bear explained that burned sage was used in this ceremony. It is a sacred plant to Native Americans, not a drug, weed and definitely not marijuana, he said.

Indians felt that burning this important gift was important and the smoke rose to their creator. A large eagle feather also was used in this ceremony, because they were the creatures that the Indians knew flew highest in the sky and closest to their Great Spirit.

Bear complained that for many years the real Indian story was not told.

Speaking proudly of his Indian heritage, Bear said, when Columbus arrived on the shores of what is now the U.S., he found no smog, no abandoned houses, no mountains of worn-out tires and no toxic waste.

Ours was a pristine land then, Bear continued, as our ancestors burned only dead or dying trees, and every scrap of a meat killed (such as buffalo) was used right down to the animal's hooves.

Some people will tell you we no longer exist, Bear warned. But we are very flexible with terms and care not in general as to whether we are called Native Americans or Indians.

But he said no Indian enjoys being called a redskin.

"If you learn one thing today it is that we are not a logo, we are fellow human beings."

Wayne Jackson of the Tuscarora tribe offered an intense, but brief history of Indian life, particularly in the Midwest.

Jackson revealed that many of the vegetables that we enjoy today came from early Indian life, including the three sisters of life, corn, squash and beans.

Indian tribes used the many herbs found in the forests as their medicine chests, Jackson said.

Many Indian tribes were wiped out or severely diminished by white man's disease and greed, he said. He was asked by a student if Indians ever worked peaceably with the white settlers.

"Oh yes," he said, "if they didn't you wouldn't be here."

After four sessions conducted on various issues and a lunch period that allowed the students to taste various Indian menu items, Bear returned to conduct an evaluation session.

"We've dropped a stone in your consciousness and we hope it will cause ripples in the way that you will pass on what you learned today to your family and friends," Bear said.

In addition to the symposium, the Romulus students also provided a thick book that contained view points of the history students involved in the project.

Other Indian mentors included Adrienne Brant James of the Mohawk Nation, Anne Miller of the Cree Nation and Wil Burnes of the Cherokee Nation.

Romulus High senior facing national test

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Nina Wood, one of the top business students at Romulus High School and an intern working in Mayor Beverly McAnally's office, will be attending the 1995 National Leadership Conference in Nashville, Tenn. from May 4-7.

Wood, a senior, is a member of the Business Professionals of America group and recently finished second in an administrative specialist competition at the State Leadership Conference at the Westin Hotel in Detroit on March 17-19.

Asked her reaction to the honor, Wood said, "At first I didn't think it was real, then the feeling became overwhelming. But most of all it gives you a feeling that you can succeed in doing it."

Wood, daughter of Kathy and Dave Wood, finished first in the regional competition of administrative specialists and then finished second in the state.

Both a school and community activist, Wood has been a member of the National Honor Society for the past two years, concert band for two years, symphony band for a year and cross peer tutor for three years.

She also has been a member of the BPA for two years. The group is a national organization for high school and college students preparing for business and office occupations.

BPA representatives act as cohesive agents in the nationwide networking of education, business and industry.

Poe to be new chief

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Acting Police Chief Daryl Poe will be formally sworn in as permanent Romulus police chief on April 27, Mayor Beverly McAnally revealed Tuesday.

Poe has been serving as acting chief since an illness befell 40-year-old Police Chief Robert Brown last fall.

McAnally said the official swearing in ceremony will occur at 10 a.m. in the City Council chambers.

Brown will be placed on some form of medical or disability leave status, McAnally said, and a spot will remain in the department in the event he becomes well enough to resume active duty with the force in the future.

The mayor praised the fill-in work that Poe has offered during Brown's absence and cited the facts that he resides within the city limits and was one of the first policemen hired by the city when the department was organized in 1980.

Brown's energy sapping illness has been described as similar to a Lyme disease, friends of the chief said.

fore crashing his vehicle into a guard rail in Erie Township.

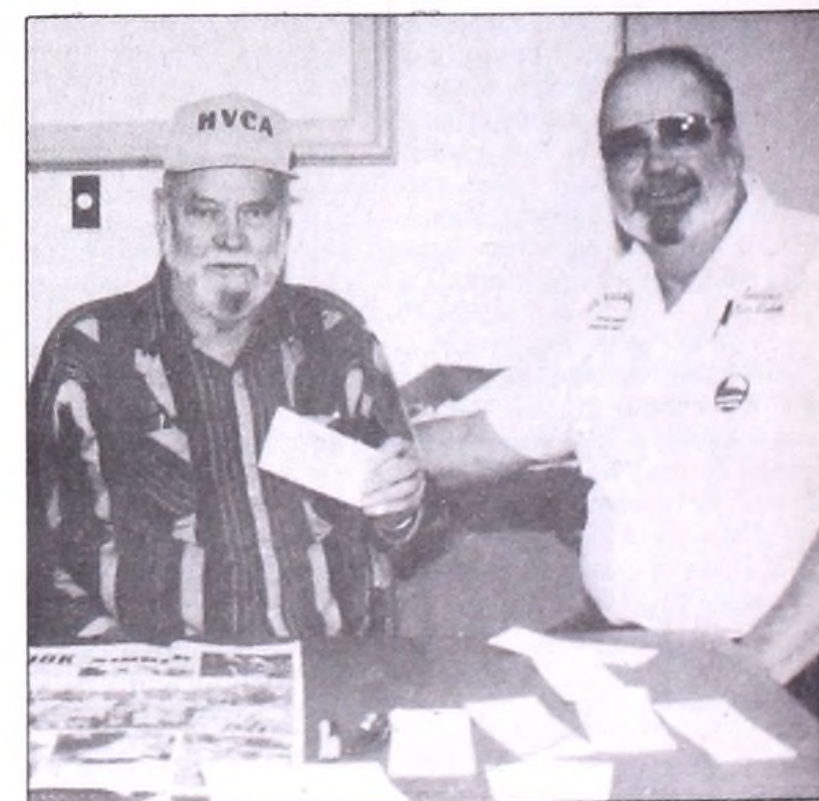

The chase continued through Detroit, Novi, Monroe County...

Both Storm and his 39-year-old woman passenger, were injured in the crash. No charges are being pressed against the Detroit woman at this time, the local prosecutor's office revealed.

The chase reportedly began when Brownstown Township police spotted the stolen truck near a burglary in progress.

The chase continued through Detroit, Novi, Monroe County and later into Ohio. At one point in the chase, Michigan State Police actually fired shots at the speeding truck on Interstate-275, but failed to disable it.

Storm was able to switch his travel plans to southbound I-75, where he finally crashed into the guard rail in Erie Township.

“Breakfast Club” serves smiles for 56 years

A special reunion of “The Smith Sub Breakfast Club” took place April 15 at the Red Apple Restaurant in Wayne. The members, who have known each other for more than 50 years, shared a hug and updated one another on their lives.

“We started meeting many years ago,” said Jeannine Platt. “When we come into town, we call and make arrangements to meet and have a breakfast or dinner together.”

The group consists of approximately 26 friends who met in their neighborhood, the Smith Road Sub by Metro Airport in Romulus. Most of them attended Hayti Elementary School, Gordonier or Texas elementary schools.

“We went to school when the old ways were in vogue,” said Platt. “Mr. Bigler was the principal at Hayti. He was in his 80s and he was rough. If someone needed discipline, they got it in a hurry.”

“Then, when they got home, they got it from their parents.”

When World War II arrived, the airport was converted into a U.S. Air Base.

“They built barracks for the soldiers and WACs,” said Platt. “They allowed us kids to go on the base to see movies for 14 cents a piece.”

“Many of the boys went in the service and then returned to the area, although Willard LaLonde was lost at sea. After that, all of his five younger brothers joined the Navy when they were old enough. Many of us met in the neighborhood and later married.”

Most of the brothers live in the Wayne Metropolitan area.

“Jack LaLonde lives in Tennessee, and we live in Florida,” said Platt. “Joe and Helen Mayran were the first, and I guess will be the last to leave the area.”

“Bob and Carol Abbley still live in the subdivision. Bob is retired and Carol is a teacher's aide at Wick Elementary School in Romulus.”

The first ones to live in the subdivision were the Mayrans, according to Platt.

“The LaLondes came in 1937, the Szewc's in 1938, then the Coburns and Perkins families in 1939,” said Platt. “The Platt family came in 1940, and the Loucks'es, Abbleys and Phillips came in 1941.”

The Hockstadts arrived in 1942. New friends have been made over the years, but the Breakfast Club always returns to the old gang, according to Platt.

“It is wonderful, in these busy times, to be able to reach out and get together with them all,” said Platt. “We are interested in having a reunion of people from Hayti, Gordonier and Texas schools from the 1940s.”

If anyone is interested, call Bob Abbley at 721-5558.

Those in attendance at the Wayne reunion April 15 included: George and Jeannine (Loucks) Platt; Jack, Ray and Barbara LaLonde; Shirley (Perkins) Lance; Bob and Carol (Phillips) Abbley; James and Dee (Cartwright) Coburn; Ken and Lorna (Drake) Coburn; Vera (Coburn) Webster; Jack Hockstadt; and Norm Szewc.

“In closing, we would like to give special thanks to the personnel of Red Apple Restaurant in Wayne for their excellent service and cooperation for this get together,” said Platt.

Note: This article was provided as a special supplement by Jeannine Platt.

CITY OF ROMULUS NOTICE

NOTICE OF LAST DAY OF REGISTRATION OF THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF THE CITY OF ROMULUS, COUNTY OF WAYNE, MICHIGAN FOR THE WAYNE COUNTY SPECIAL ELECTION TO BE HELD TUESDAY, MAY 23, 1995

To the qualified Electors of the City of Romulus, County of Wayne, State of Michigan: Notice is hereby given that, in conformity with the Michigan Election Law, I, the undersigned City Clerk, will upon any day EXCEPT Sunday, a legal holiday, and the day of any regular or special election, receive for registration the name of any resident not registered, who may APPLY for such registration EXCEPT during the time intervening between the CLOSE of Registration for the General Election and the day of such election.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN, that registrations will be taken at any Secretary of State branch office or in the ROMULUS CITY CLERK'S OFFICE, 11111 Wayne Road, Romulus, Michigan between the hours of:

Monday thru Friday - 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

AND THE LAST DAY TO REGISTER

Monday, April 24, 1995 - 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Every person who has the following qualifications, or who will have those qualifications at the next election shall be entitled to register:

1. A citizen of the United States, not less than 18 years of age.
2. A resident of the state for not less than 30 days.
3. A resident of the City of Romulus.

For the purpose of REVIEWING THE REGISTRATION LIST AND REGISTERING such of the qualified electors that shall properly apply therefor, the name of no person but an ACTUAL RESIDENT of the City of Romulus at the time of registration, and entitled under the Constitution to vote at the next election, if remaining such resident, shall be entered in the registration book.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that the following proposal will be voted upon:

WAYNE COUNTY TRANSIT AUTHORITY MILLAGE PROPOSAL

Shall the limitation on the amount of taxes imposed on taxable property in the Wayne County Transit Authority be increased by 33 cents ($0.33) per thousand dollars ($1,000) (0.33 mill) of the taxable value on all taxable property in the Authority for three (3) years, 1995 to 1997, inclusive, for the purpose of providing funds for the support of a public transportation system serving the elderly, handicapped, and the general public of the County of Wayne? It is estimated that 0.33 mill in 1995 would raise approximately $7.9 million in the first calendar year of the levy.

This notice is given as provided for in Section 168.653 of the Michigan Election Law, as amended.

No one can accuse the local governments of Canton and Wayne of standing still. Both are on target to see the completion of major building projects this year.

Canton's pride and joy could be "The Summit," a $13 million recreational complex scheduled for completion late this year. Located on Canton Center Road, the complex will feature five pools (one with a 120-foot water slide), a gymnasium, racquetball courts, sauna and steam room, weight room, job/walk track, dance studio and on and on. It is to be one of the nicest municipal recreational facilities in the country.

What I find so neat about the project is that the funds to build this monument to recreation comes from tipping fees derived from Canton's two landfills and two grants obtained from the state. Traditionally, bonds are floated for these types of projects, but Canton officials had the good sense of looking elsewhere when Canton voters rejected a bond issue for the complex in 1988.

Canton officials, however, are counting on a $8.8 million bond issue to pass Tuesday (See Canton Eagle, Page 1) for results). This bond would be used to nearly double the size of the current 31,000 square foot library.

Canton's current library is one of the best in the area. The facility boasts one of the highest resident usage rates in the state. It's hard to imagine that the community has outgrown this like-new building, but officials are hoping voters will look toward the future and keep Canton in the forefront of progressive communities.

Adjacent to Canton, Wayne has one leg up as they expect their new library to be completed later this year. City Manager John Zech allowed this writer a tour of the construction site, and I'm here to tell you, this facility is top-notch.

Located downtown next to the parking garage, the new library will be nearly the size of Canton's. Rows upon rows of books will be available for all of us to browse through. The crowning jewel, however, is the meeting area in which local organizations will be able to gather in a comfortable atmosphere to do business. Wayne will truly be proud of this facility and hopefully it will begin a revitalization of the downtown district.

In addition, Wayne will begin construction of its new community pool soon. The $5.7 million aquatic center will be paid for by bonds approved at a special election by Wayne voters last year.

While many local governments struggle to maintain what they have, the people of Canton and Wayne continue to be bullish when it comes to supporting their communities. It is that type of community spirit that makes this area such a great place to live and work.

Chambers of commerce saluted on anniversary

In April of 1768 - 227 years ago - the first chamber of commerce was established in the colonies.

The historic event occurred eight years before the United States was established and 69 years before Michigan gained its statehood.

Its original purpose was to promote trade and commerce and to expand the prosperity and well-being of the community. Since that time, these basic concepts have not changed, and the focus of chambers of commerce continues to be the promotion of business, industry and the community.

Over the past two centuries the activities of the chambers have evolved to keep pace with the times, but the chambers remain as the focal point through which men and women may channel their energies to promote economic growth in the community.

No single person or small group of persons can effectively accomplish what a vibrant, dedicated chamber can do for the business community. It is through the collective efforts of a variety of business owners and managers and professional people who work to make their community a better place in which to live and work that the mission of the chambers of commerce is fulfilled.

We salute the chambers of commerce in our six communities and wish them continued prosperity.

Yen for dollars

To the editor:

Pity poor Japan!

Its banks are stuffed with dollars. Dollars everywhere. Suitcases filled with dollars. Closets packed with dollars. To Japanese bankers, dollars are like the "leaves on the trees"—and almost as worthless.

The yen soars—the dollar plunges. What's a Japanese banker to do? Why of course! Buy more dollars!

To stabilize the yen-dollar relationship—the Bank of Japan has been forced—amazingly—to buy even more dollars. This action is supposed to stabilize and "protect" the dollar—in theory.

Of course, the real solution is to balance our trade and budget deficits. But that would hurt too much. And, besides—we "don't want to." So that's that.

Bud, what if the Bank of Japan quits buying dollars. What if they decide to administer some "tough love" to free-spending U.S. politicians—and make us earn our status as the world's "reserve currency." What if—they actually sold dollars!

The dumping of tens of billions of dollars in U.S. Treasury bonds, bills and notes back into our financial markets—could effectively destroy those markets. In any event, it would not be a pretty sight. In fact, it could be the financial equivalent of—well, let's say—Hiroshima!

A word to the wise—there is a Japanese proverb that says—"a gentleman's revenge takes 40 years."

Sign rule called unfair

To the editor:

The city of Westland is enforcing an ordinance to remove illegal signs from the city's right of way. Good idea!

Let's start with the city and its Bailey Center's Psychic Fair sign placed in the City Hall's (Ford Road) right of way followed by the Bailey center's Craft Show signs placed at most major intersections. Only then, pick on the homeowners!

Ryan Simpson

Contamination feared

To the editor:

First of all, I'd like to thank Bill Wadsworth for his letter in the March 2 Romulus Roman.

Don't listen to Doug Wicklund's letter Bill, don't put up, and don't shut up. Keep speaking your opinion as I am speaking mine. It's very ironic that Wicklund accuses you of making misstatements, and then goes ahead and states in his March 9 letter in the Romulus Roman the following: "the track record (for deep well injection) is outstanding...(and) safe according to the state of ...Ohio."

The fact is, the Class 1H Commercial Injection Well in Vickery, Ohio, the same type as the Environmental Disposal Service (EDS) well, did fail. Many people were made seriously by the well's failure. There was ground water contamination. The company paid out over $30 million, three times the amount of liability insurance to be carried by EDS. And I don't even know if there were any limited liability corporations involved, and if their presence would have had a difference in the settlement.

Also, Bill, Wicklund states you did not protest "until you voted to file the lawsuit against us" (in 1993). How can you protest in 1990, about things you don't find out about until 1993? Wicklund's paid advertisement states they put an option on the Ryznar property in November of 1990. But, when Pete Bergeron, Doug Wicklund, and Bob Ryan came before our City Council on Dec. 10, 1990, they didn't tell us about that option on the Ryznar property, did they Bill? We didn't find out about the November, 1990 option on the Ryznar property until 1993, did we Bill, when it came out in court papers. How can you protest in 1990, what you don't find out about it until 1993? There were a whole lot of things we didn't know about in 1990 regarding the EDS well.

To go on, I've been giving the presentation given by Austin Marshall at the ZBA Hearing a lot of thought. Everyone at EDS always skims over the issue of the confining zone layer of rock—that it's an absolute, that it's impermeable, that it's almost like Cryptonite; that there's no possible way for hazardous waste from Mt. Simon, (underground), to get through this unpenetrable fortress of rock! But, according to Wicklund's literature, there is a way. From the EPA Analysis (October 1991), it states, "...pathways may be created by the waste dissolving the rocks in the confining zone." It also states that, "The waste must be chemically compatible with confining zone, so that dissolution of the confining zone rock does not allow waste to migrate out of the injection zone..."

Sign problems plague resident

To the editor:

I am writing as a long time resident, owner of a business in Westland, and a person who has been law abiding, and tried to remain neutral when it comes to local politics.

Since last July, however, I have been ordered to appear in 18th District Court no less than four times, forced to hire an attorney, threatened with up to 90 days in jail, and a $500 fine, plus court costs.

The crime? Displaying a small 2-by-4-foot, professionally built Windmaster sign; that sits on my property in front of my printing establishment.

The sign poses no traffic hazard, or view obstruction, and when compared to the hundreds of poorly designed and constructed signs throughout our city, it could be considered quite tastefully done and informative.

The mayor's office, and the Westland Building Department have, however, decided that my sign must go. Saying the sign violates a vague, rarely enforced city ordinance.

They do this, regardless of the fact, I have presented strong evidence (photographic and other) that many other businesses, some of which, are strong supporters of the mayor and his administration, have nearly identical signs in front of their businesses without any harassment whatsoever.

I have on several occasions offered to take my sign down if and when these "friends of the mayor" are also asked to take their signs down. This solution was greeted with what could best be described as a hostile reaction from the Building Department.

If the mayor truly wants to rid the city of excessive signage, then he and the council should create, and enforce, an equitable ordinance and do away with his selective enforcement policy now in place. He may even want to ban the hundreds of tacky cardboard political signs he litters our beautiful city with each election season!

Owner, First Impression Printing Businesses receive thanks

To the editor:

The purpose of this letter is to let our community know what's going right with our schools and businesses.

On March 28, Leadership Canton and the Plymouth/Canton Business-Education Partnership sponsored and organized an opportunity for businesses and Plymouth/Canton school staff and administrators to connect. School personnel were able to see first-hand the skills, aptitudes and attitudes our children need to learn in order to function, grow and thrive in the business world of today, tomorrow and the future.

The businesses that generously opened their doors and provided tours were Gil-Mar Manufacturing, UNISYS, Clean Air Technology, Diversely Corporation, Pro-Coil Corporation and Ford Motor Company. After the tours, there was a reception for all participants to share what they had learned on their tours and to continue talking with the business community.

East Middle School graciously provided the facilities and their staff was instrumental in making it a success. The reception was a mini-"Taste of Canton" represented by Apple Bee's, Roman Forum and the Olive Garden. They provided delicious entrees that showcase the quality of restaurants we have in Canton. Gift certificates and coupons were donated by Rose's Restaurant, Outback Steakhouse and Boston Chicken to show their support of our community. The Canton Target store donated all the paper products and soft drinks.

Six students from the Close-Up Program volunteered to help and they did a beautiful job. This was truly an event that required collaboration from all sector of our community - businesses, schools, administrators, teachers, students, volunteers and the Canton Chamber of Commerce. It's comforting to know that our community works together to enrich the education of our children.

Leadership Canton: Tom Adamusik, Mike Palchesko, Brenda Plecha and Paul Schrauben plus Betty Bloch, coordinator of Business-Education Partnership

Editor's note: The event was recorded in the April 13 edition of the Canton Eagle.

Social Security.

The latest jibe is to stagger the mailing of these checks on different dates, not as now when all of these checks are mailed at the beginning of each month.

The logic of this change is (because the former way) causes a great more handling disbursement on the same day. A change of this nature is uncalled for.

The receiving of these checks as it is now has the recipients accustomed to receiving Social Security checks or -- having them deposited in their bank, etc. on the same day.

It would indeed cause delay in changing to different times. The arrangements as we have now seems to be fine, I do not understand why such a change should take place. Is there some hidden factor we don't know of?

The system we have now is just fine. We don't need a change. I am satisfied the way checks are mailed now. I am used to the Social Security deposited in my checking account at the bank the first of each month.

We cry out about waste - I wonder why?

Teachers leave fond memories

When reading through the list of administrators and teachers that will be leaving the Wayne-Westland school district in June as part of the Voluntary Incentive Plan (VIP), I saw many familiar names.

The program has been catching the attention of the district since the number of signers surpassed the projected 120 mark.

Those individuals that have signed up to take the early buy-out leave the district to pursue other career options, take advantage of the incentive program, or to close the books on their educational careers. In some case, those careers span three to four decades of teaching.

What has many concerned is the large number of vacancies left by the exiting administrators and teachers -- all within a three month period prior to the 1995-96 school year. Will the school district be able to screen and interview all potential candidates that will best fill these positions? Is the district taking measures to actively recruit candidates from the teaching pool?

As I read down the list of names it occurred to me a great number of teachers leaving the district were teachers or administrators I myself have had the opportunity to learn under.

These voids will be more than names on a list -- they'll be stories, activities, unique teaching methods, knowledge, dedication, creativity, enthusiasm and years of experience. Experience that in numbers adds up to more than 5,000 years.

I started to think that my ability to understand the situation, process the information, organize my thoughts, literally express and type the idea, read what I had written was all accomplished through the 12 years I had spent with teachers from the Wayne-Westland schools.

Some of those very teachers taught me to read and write and express myself creatively. They challenged my weaknesses and praised my accomplishments.

It will be an incredible task for the school district to fill the shoes of the teachers taking advantage of the early buy-out. One cannot discount the 181 people that will take their places. It takes a special person to be a teacher and the district hopes the new knowledge holders will bring to the students new ideas, programs and a regenerated enthusiasm for teaching.

I was reminded of my sixth-grade teacher when I sadly came across her name as I read through the list of administrators and teachers leaving the school district. Nancy Deck was my teacher during my 1981-82 school year at Schweitzer Elementary School in Westland.

I attribute three teachers in my first and secondary educational career with encouraging me to pursue my writing talents, Nancy Deck being one of them. She brought a sense of urgency and excitement to the classroom that made you realize you had only 180 days to learn.

Since the announcement of the teachers leaving the school district I have heard numerous stories from parents and community members about the teachers they remember the most, the one they wish their children could learn from. Its true there's no way to tell when the influence of a teacher will stop. I know the teachers of the Wayne-Westland school district will continue to influence the students they've taught for the rest of their lives and I thank them.

Keep checks on same day

Celebrity musical director shares stage with the Detroit Symphony

By MARGO DEWEY
News Editor

He has created some of the most popular songs in the world, and now the Oscar-award winning composer, Marvin Hamlisch, is headed to the Detroit Metropolitan area for a unique performance with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra April 20-23.

Most people fell in love with Hamlisch's style of music after seeing the romantic motion picture The Way We Were. He also created his own adaption of Scott Joplin's music for The Sting.

In an exclusive interview with the Michigan Community Newspapers (MCN), Hamlisch revealed that he has always enjoyed the "sounds of music", but added there is a difference between having a talent and working at obtaining a career.

"When you're given a talent, you're in a sense pushed into what you're going to do no matter what," said Hamlisch. "Given my druthers, I would prefer to be Mickey Mantle. To be talented, however, you do have a companion for life which has its advantages in many ways."

It was evident by the time Hamlisch was five years old that he had an exceptional musical gift. He said even at a young age he began creating his own songs.

"I guess you could say I was the entertainer in the family," said Hamlisch.

A graduate of the Juilliard School of Music, Hamlisch received his bachelor of arts degree from Queens College.

Besides composing scores for The Way We Were and The Sting, Hamlisch also displayed his talent in Sophie's Choice, Ordinary People and Ice Castles.

For the theatre he has written music for: A Chorus Line, They're Playing Our Song and The Goodbye Girl.

Recently Hamlisch traveled with Barbra Streisand as the musical director and arranger for her concert U.S. tour.

"Working with Barbra was probably one of the most memorable performances so far," said Hamlisch. "She has an exceptional talent, and it was a privilege to tour with her. I wouldn't mind doing it again."

"You have to have a lot of luck and persevere a healthy ego," said Hamlisch.

Tickets are now on sale for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra performance

THE PET STOP

Adopt-A-Pet

It is that time of year - summer, when thoughts turn to new beginnings and new adventures. And what better time to think about an addition to the family.

The process is simple. Those seeking that perfect pet simply visit the shelter and select one of the eager animals awaiting adoption. Then, an adoption counselor will help the prospective owner complete a questionnaire regarding the care of the animal and the home into which it may go.

After that, the adoption documents are signed and the wiggly bundle of fur and affection is ready to travel home with a new family.

Michigan Humane Society officials are careful to point out that inoculations and sterilization of all animals must be guaranteed by the new owner and there is a moderate adoption fee and a sterilization deposit requested for puppies and kittens who may not yet have all their inoculations or be neutered.

At present, more than 30 animals await new homes and summer will bring in many new litters of puppies and kittens needing homes. And, as usual, there are several adult animals who have been abandoned, lost or given up by their owners.

The shelter, located at 37255 Marquette Road in Westland, serves the entire area and is open for adoptions from 10 a.m. until 4:30 Mondays through Saturdays.

Further information is available at 721-7300.

Educational facility receives million-dollar grant

The Wayne County Regional Education Service Agency (RESA) in Wayne is getting an early Christmas gift from Santa Claus this year.

The U.S. Department of Education announced the first federal grants aimed specifically at helping make schools more secure.

Awards totaling $18 million are going to 19 school districts throughout the state under provisions of the Safe Schools Act.

RESA is the recipient of $1,602,444.

President Bill Clinton will discuss the issue of school safety this week at the National Education Association's Summit on Safe Schools in Los Angeles.

"Every school day thousands of America's children find themselves threatened in playground arguments that may escalate into fistfights, or confrontations with lethal weapons that may end in death or permanent injury," said Clinton. "Many just stay home rather than face the possibility of violence."

"We've got to turn that around, and we can. These grants are a start in reclaiming the schools. We cannot retreat."

The House voted to eliminate all but $10 million of the $484 million fiscal year 1995 appropriation for Safe and Drug-Free Schools. However, the Senate rescission bill leaves the entire amount.

A conference committee will resolve the difference and submit a final bill to the president.

"In poll after poll, parents say their most urgent concern is safety, said U.S. Secretary of Education Richard Riley. "They expect safe classrooms, safe campuses and safe communities. An essential aspect of education reform must be to end the tragic violence that is paralyzing some neighborhoods."

The competitive, 18-month grants are going to school districts with significant crime, violence and disciplinary problems.

Libraries given needed funding

Several libraries in Wayne County will soon receive a special gift to improve services to the community, according to 17th District State Rep. Tom Kelly.

Kelly said various libraries are recipients of federal Library Services and Construction Act (LSCA) grants. The Library of Michigan is the state administrative agency for this program and processes more than $4.1 million in awards to Michigan Libraries annually.

The Wayne County Regional Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped will use a $29,445 grant to continue services to its patrons.

"This project is for the purchase of new descriptive video titles and a Kurzweil Reading Edge to provide unlimited access to materials," said Kelly. "The grant also supports the publishing and distribution of information materials to clients of the library."

Another very worthy project that will serve approximately 100 children and 20 seniors at the Wayne Public Library is called "Grand pair-ent." This program will foster literacy and reading skills among at-risk children in grades three to six, and recruit senior volunteers, according to Kelly.

A computer with the appropriate software will be used and the seniors will help children with computer-assisted reading projects.

"The senior volunteers will read with these youngsters after school and on Saturdays," Kelly said. "I understand that incentives are being prepared to encourage participation with a final program rewarding participants."

Kelly reported that the Title I Inter-generational Literacy grant totals $7,954.

"Another project serving more than 14,000 people will replace outdated titles with current materials and augment existing collections with updated materials at the Wayne Public Library," said Kelly.

The Library will use $23,200 to accomplish this and to install new equipment for the McGraw Hill Science and Technology Encyclopedia on CD-ROM.

Monthly, a listing of titles will be published and new medical titles will be announced in the senior citizens newsletters, according to Kelly.

Other libraries in the area that are also recipients of LSCA awards include: Ann Arbor, Livonia and River Rouge.

"The River Rouge branch of the Wayne Public Library, working with River Rouge Public Schools, Wayne-Oakland Library Federation consultants and the Library Commission, will obtain two new computers to advance the academic achievement of youth and young adults," said Kelly.

"Each of these LSCA grants are for programs promoting knowledge, and hopefully, they will attract more users of these great resources."

Earth Day images of endangered animals, the tropical rain forest, litter and a recycle bin adorned a quilt sewn to commemorate conservation. All were part of the learning activities of Central Middle School students. Stuffed animals were placed inside an imaginary rain forest, the exact size of the one adopted by the students, to provoke discussion of how much wildlife was saved through their efforts.

Earth Day activities abound at Central

By GRETCHEN MADICK
MCN Staff Writer

Earth Day was celebrated a bit early at Central Middle School with a variety of activities promoting a common conservation theme.

A tree planting, a rain forest activity, dedication of an ecology quilt and a talent show kept students occupied on April 12. At the day's conclusion, band teacher Linda Calzone taught the song, Save the Planet, to assembled students.

Students with rainbow-colored, painted shirts decorated specifically for the occasion, added color to the theme as ongoing Earth Day activities reached their conclusion on this special day, promoting a basic understanding of conservation through ecology.

Quilt images, sewn into a composite of information, were displayed, attached to the curtains on the stage. Fish in the ocean, eagles soaring over the earth, tropical rain forest scenes, the earth pictured with the moon and stars, a whale on an ocean floor, penguins in the ocean, litter plastered on the earth, a heart with a porpoise overlay.

A patch sewn of the green Canton recycling bin brought the message close to home - the effort starts individually.

Central Principal Patricia Moore thanked students for the larger version of the quilt, given to her as a remembrance of these students efforts. She stated the quilt was a keepsake in her family room, which she used to wrap her grandchildren during story times. She said she was a grandmother with "830 children" and promised to keep and treasure the quilt all the time.

Reality statements were read, interspersed between songs like, From a Distance, and Don't Forget Little Children, portraying a common environmental theme, while focusing on the problems environmentalists face.

"We create enough garbage every day to fill the New Orleans Superdome twice and half is waste paper," the announcer said.

Dancers followed skit makers, filling the stage with young talent and sophisticated thoughts.

Audience participation boomed out everyday activities to advocate what had been learned.

"Turn off the lights. Participate in the River Rouge clean up. Use rechargeable batteries. Turn off the water while brushing your teeth. Take showers instead of baths. Recycle plastic bags. Put a brick in your toilet tank. Save paper bags from lunches. Donate to endangered animals. Don't litter; pick it up. Recycle cups. Walk instead of driving," were the ideas shared by the students.

Environmentalists Club brings conservation message to area youngsters

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER

Environmentally concerned citizens who join the Belleville-based Huron Valley Conservation Association (HVCA) should be prepared to keep a busy schedule.

The club, which has 80-plus members, prides itself on sponsoring a variety of conservation programs throughout the year. And, when they are not working on its youth and adult programs, the HVCA members are busy with fundraising activities for the events.

"Conservation begins with kids, and our main focus is to educate youngsters," said HVCA President Ginger Bruder. "We do this through our sponsorship of approximately 25 kids annually at the Michigan United Conservation Club youth camp, providing Tracks magazine to all of the fourth-graders in the public and parochial schools in the district and sponsoring fishing and hunter safety clinics."

"We've had some great reports back from kids who attended the camp in past years. They study ecology, survival, hunter and marine safety, fishing and environmental appreciation. It is something they enjoy, and the information and experience they receive continues with them for years to come, perhaps for a lifetime," Bruder said.

During Earth Day week, member Maria Kasten will bring the Nature Scope program to her students in a Taylor elementary school.

"The program is directed at third to sixth grade students, and focuses on recycling, con-

Home composting can be simple for the family

By KIMBERLY WOLOSKE
MCN Staff Writer

If you haven't caught on to the recycling bandwagon because you're not quite sure what you should be recycling and what should be included in your regular trash you're not alone.

Community involvement is the key to a successful recycling program and without participation the collection program is a sure failure.

In addition to curbside recycling, compost season is under way continuing through Nov. 30. Compost materials include decayed organic matter used in many instances to fertilize. Novice composters generally comply with city ordinances and bag up materials, separate from their trash, to be picked up by their city. Trash and compost mixed in with regular rubbish will not be picked up by public safety officials.

More experienced composters know the value of humus, the dark, rich fertilizer that is the end product of composting. Home composting can be easy as making a pile of yard waste and waiting for a year or two to generate the valuable, natural fertilizer you can use around trees, for gardening or as a nutrient provider to a flower bed.

Your lawn can be turned into a humus generator through mulching as you mow. "Grasscycling" is an invaluable source of nitrogen for your lawn that eventually, when mixed with shredded leaves from fall collections, create potassium, carbon, phosphorus and other nutrients for home composting. An effective ratio of green and brown yard waste is desired to create a balanced composting mixture. Leaves and wood chips are considered brown yard waste and grasses green yard waste.

Remember natural mulches provide countless advantages over chemical fertilizers. They include: weed reduction, a higher level of ground/soil warmth in the winter, cost efficient, environmentally safe, and the soil is constantly fed through gradual decomposition of the brown and green wastes.

Another potential program to avoid when home composting is the inclusion of kitchen throw-aways into yard waste compost. Meat, cooked food, pet manure, fruit and fruit and vegetable scraps should never be mixed in with brown and green yard waste materials. With the rising temperatures in the summer these items mixed in with yard waste are sure to attract animals and insects into your garden, flower or lawn areas.

Plastics, glass, papers and metals are other items that can be found in curbside recycling bins. The key to recycling is the correct separation of items you wish to recycle either through a drop-off method your city provides or with your involvement in curbside pickups.

The following are easy rules for separating items you wish to recycle. Plastics can be separated into four categories HDPE-2 milky white, bottles and jugs (milk jugs, windshield washer fluid bottles); HDPE2-solid white or colored, bottles and jugs (liquid laundry detergent, shampoo bottles); PETE-1 clear or green, bottles and jugs, peanut butter jars, water bottles; and styrofoam, (cups, peanuts).

Paper includes newsprint (newspapers, glossy inserts); cardboard (separate corrugated cardboard from paperboard - cereal boxes); paper bags; magazines (glossy only); office paper includes white ledger (black ink only), white copy or computer paper; colored ledger (index cards, notebook paper, non-glossy junk mail, yellow legal paper); green bar computer paper (or other color bars).

Metals include steel cans (rinsed thoroughly, labels removed, cans flattened); and aluminum that is lightweight and silver (pop cans, pie tins, foil, siding, lawn chairs, food containers).

Glass products are best recycled when tops and rings are removed and rinsed properly. Labels may be left on but separated by glass color (green, clean, or brown). Leaded glass is not recyclable (mirrors, drinking glasses and windows).

Motor oil at on-site recycling centers is usually accepted if its brought in five gallons or less in sturdy containers with good caps. Crank case oil only (oil from engines) not mixed with other fluids is acceptable.

Batteries from household items and cards placed in clear, sturdy, closed plastic bags will be collected for recycling.

All of the items listed above are simple rules that can be followed to begin an at home recycling program. For more information about recycling items or a list of rules for your city wide recyclables call your Department of Public Safety or a recycling center in your area.

Students team with McDonald's to preserve the environment

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Students at Romulus High School are teaming up with city officials and McDonald's restaurants to recycle those heavy telephone books that for years have been filling up our landfills.

Margaret LeDuc, city emergency coordinator, has been working for the past month with the high school students, who are part of the Students Aware of Valuable Environment (SAVE) group.

The phone books are being collected at the Romulus City Hall, recreation department and the two McDonald's restaurants in Romulus. When dropped off at one of the restaurants, McDonald's thanks the donors by providing them with a free ice cream cone.

The books are then turned over to City Management and the books are recycled in procedures in Romulus, as composting began earlier this month and curbside recycling will start in July, Detroyer said.

In past years, Romulus city wide recycling efforts were limited mainly to a drop off area near the Department of Public Works building. This year the amount of recyclables are expected to rise substantially with the advent of curbside recycling.

Christine Detroyer of City Management Inc. also thanked the SAVE group students for assisting her in the past and agreeing to help this fall when Romulus grade school students will be updated in their education on recycling and composting knowledge, based on changes that go into effect this year in Michigan.

This year will mark important changes in environmental servation and general awareness," said Kasten, a Belleville resident. "It provides exposure to conservation concepts through the written materials and the posters. I find that the kids love the program, and I'd like to see it expanded in the future."

Bruder noted that each year, the HVCA has obtained seedlings from the MUCC and distributed some 300 of them to area residents.

"We will distribute Norway spruce and native olive seedlings free," the HVCA president said.

"Sumpter Township will be the setting of our annual fishing clinic, with Ted Solo of Romulus chairing the event, with the assistance of Don Truran, Ernie Knust, Keith Bruder, Harold Kasten and Billy Manning," Bruder said.

"We open it to kids from 5 to 16. They bring their own poles, and we provide the bait and the instruction," said Solo. "Last year, everybody caught a fish - some were pretty small, but all the kids can say they caught a fish."

The free event is slated between 9 a.m. and noon June 3 at Sherwood Park. Youngsters must be accompanied by a parent or guardian, Solo said.

"This year has been designated as the Year of the River, and our club will be taking an educational field trip down the Huron River to collect samples and to check the water for any dumping or debris," said Ernie Knust.

Bruder noted that the club funds its projects with the rental of tents, and a variety of fund-raising projects.

This year, the HVCA will stage a flower sale of hanging plants and garden plants in the NBD parking lot on Main Street, Belleville, on May 7.

Chevrolet and GMC Truck have cornered the market with the Suburban. Until the Hum-

The second thing on my gripe list is the fact that this

One threat that could totally disrupt Suburban sales would be the introduction of a Dodge Ram version of this special purpose vehicle. The Ram offers a more up-to-date style and interior. However, buyers must deal with reality, and reality is that the Suburban is on top because there is no competition.

Plymouth-Salem "spikers" (above) enjoyed a phenomenal and unprecedented 33-0 season en route to conference and district championships. From coach Brian Gilles' lineup, the Michigan Community Newspapers' sports staff has drafted three of the Rocks' outstanding players to lead the 1995 "Dream Team". MCN photo by Kimberly Woloskie

MICHIGAN COMMUNITY NEWSPAPERS

ALL-AREA

VOLLEYBALL

Shellye Sills

A versatile player who gave the Plymouth-Salem Rocks a potent assault, Shellye Sills helped the Western Lakes Conference champs post an impeccable 33-0 overall season. An unanimous all-conference selection, Sills was the team's "mid-hitter" and her "spikes" were deadly. The Rocks went on to win the district title before losing in the state playoffs to Livonia Ladywood in the duel for the regional championship.

Plymouth-Salem

Erin Klock

A tough and aggressive competitor, Erin Koch is the third member of coach Brian Gilles' Salem unbeaten team. Koch also earned all-conference recognition. Koch teamed with Shellye Sills and Karen Gundry to form the nucleus of an unbeaten team. She had 62 attacks and 28 kills to her repertoire that produced praise from teammates and opponents. When Koch and Gundry leave, the Rocks and Gilles will have a huge void to fill.

Plymouth-Salem

Karen Gundry

The captain of Plymouth-Salem's undefeated team, Karen Gundry has compiled an impressive stat list, which includes 44 kills and 118 attacks in an unforgettable season. A two-year member of the varsity squad, Gundry is described as a player who is tireless and dedicated, "someone who gives 100 percent when she is in the game and steps up her performance when it's needed," according to Salem coach Brian Gilles.

Melissa Pack

In Melissa Pack, Belleville has a franchise player for the 1995-96 season. As a junior, Pack was voted by Mega Conference Red Division coaches to the all-conference team. An all-around player like her teammate Dawn Corwin, Pack was a strong outside hitter and played center for the Tigers who finished 7-5 in the conference this year. "She never left the floor," notes Belleville coach David McCarney.

Belleville

Dawn Corwin

When it comes to multi-talented Dawn Corwin, Wayne's loss was definitely Belleville's gain. Corwin spent her first two years with Wayne before transferring to Belleville as a junior where she helped Tiger coach Dave McCarney's team become a serious contender in the tough Mega Conference Red Division. The MVP at Belleville, Corwin's outstanding performance also caught the attention of college coaches.

Belleville

Michelle Slawinski

No matter what position she was assigned by Romulus coach Gail Coleman, Michelle Slawinski did an exceptional job. Slawinski led the Eagles to a Class A district championship in what was to be Coleman's final campaign. A three-year letter-winner who is a defensive specialist, Michelle is an "outstanding hitter". "She was my utility player," said coach Coleman. "And she did a great job wherever she played."

Romulus

Casandra Jackson

Also an all-around player, Romulus' Casandra Jackson brought the curtains down on three years of exceptional varsity competition. As the middle hitter and also middle blocker, Jackson was in a class of her own. "She had outstanding talent at the net not only as a blocker but as a hitter as well," said coach Gail Coleman, who considered Jackson and Michelle Slawinski among the finest two players she has ever coached in her 13 years

Romulus

Tammy Raines

Only a sophomore, Tammy Raines is the second-part of a sister act on the Wayne Memorial team that made the Zebras tough. A natural talent, Tammy showed she had the ability to play varsity competition as a freshman and her progress, monitored by Wayne coach Leigh Anne Dunlap, has been phenomenal. Tammy Raines is considered one of, if not the best, player on the team (Hope the sisters don't fight over that statement).

Wayne

Audrey Raines

Blessed with outstanding athletic talent, Audrey Raines was one of the reasons why Wayne Memorial stood in the way of most would-be title contenders. Wayne coach Leigh Anne Dunlap has nothing but praise for the veteran player who was nominated to the Mega Conference all-conference team by coaches for her outstanding play and her contribution to Wayne's success. Raines is a senior with three years of varsity experience.

Wayne

Kim Kopczyk

A four-year letter-winner at Robichaud High, Kim Kopczyk was the Bulldogs' Most Valuable Player. "Kim is our best all-around player and best passer," said Robichaud coach Tim Leighton. Also the team's spiritual leader, Kopczyk usually could be counted upon to rally the troops when needed. Her outstanding performance earned her a spot on the Suburban Athletic Conference all-conference team. "This team was a team because of Kim's efforts."

Robichaud

Gail Coleman

Gail Coleman has had a long and distinguished coaching career at Romulus High.

Coleman has produced a handful of conference champions and outstanding players, but her 1994-95 edition, competing as an independent, captured a Class A district title this year and made it to the regional tournament.

Romulus posted an overall 30-20-2 record for the season.

Coleman says that the key to this year's success was the dedication of her players who had set their goals and worked to realize them.

Coleman's 13th campaign as head coach will apparently be her final one. She announced last week that she would not be returning to the Eagles next year.

"I just felt that it was time to step down and allow someone else to take over the reins," says Coleman. "I love what I was doing, and I met a lot of good people while doing it. But there comes a time in your life when you want to try other things. And the time for me is now."

But before Coleman disappears from the coaching scene, the Michigan Community Newspapers' sports staff believes that Coleman's achievements should not go unrecognized. The staff has picked Gail Coleman as the Coach of the Year in volleyball.

Stacy Strickler

A standout on defense as well as offense, Westland John Glenn's Stacy Strickler brings three years of varsity competition to the All-Area team. Picked to the all-conference team by the coaches in the Western Lakes Conference, Strickler was a middle hitter whose spikes floored opponents. On defense, she was strong at the net and formidable away from it.

Glenn

Barb Hoch

The "setter" and also a Suburban Athletic Conference selection, Robichaud's Barb Hoch is a junior with two years of varsity experience. Not only the best "setter" on the team, Hoch also was considered the best in the SAC. "I don't think you'd hear any arguments if you said that Hoch was the best setter in the league," stressed Robichaud coach Tim Leighton.

And the rains came

Storm can't stop Glenn's unbeaten track machine

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Sports Writer

Westland John Glenn's track title express picked up momentum last week as the Rockets soared past Walled Lake Central, 70-44, in an abbreviated dual meet that ended after 15 events due to inclement weather.

"We managed to complete 15 of the 17 events before the rains and winds stopped the meet," said Glenn coach Jess Shough. "The winds were so strong that they blew us right off the track."

The victory stretched Glenn's winning streak to a modest three-meets.

While the rains and winds stirred up their off-track storm, the Rockets were busy creating a storm of their own on the track. They cleaned up by winning nine of 15 events.

Glenn hurdler Todd Peterson was the only two-event winner as he picked up the 110-meter event with a 16.1 performance. He also won the 300-meter hurdles in 43.2.

Despite the strong winds, pole vaulter Eric Davey managed to clear 11 feet to stash that event into the Rocket win column.

The Westlanders also won the 100-meter and 400-meter yard dashes thanks to the efforts of Brent Washington and Shamar Lott. Washington led the sprinters across the finish line for the 100, posting the winning time of 11.9. Lott was the best in the 400 as he turned in the winning time of 53.1.

Mike Samples won the discus toss with a 129'4" effort, and Jason Baker successfully negotiated 5'10" to win the high jump competition. Glenn also won the 800-meter run with Jason Olewnik, who was clocked in 2:09.5.

Shough's 3,200-meter relay team made up of Joe Wojtowicz, Chris Gillen, Jason Crosby and Olewnik toured the course in the winning time of 8:40.3.

The Rockets put together a team of Phil Allen, Charles Bailey, Dan Berishaj and Lott to win the 800-meter relay (1:40.1).

Glenn takes a brief hiatus from competition this week after competing in the Elks Relays, sponsored by the Dearborn Elks Club and Dearborn High School.

Patterson skates to gold medal

Wayne's Kasi Patterson captured a gold medal at the National Precision Skating Championships staged last week in San Diego.

Patterson, a member of the Detroit Skating Club's Team Elan precision group, skated in the top-level division at the competition. More than 75 of the highest ranking teams from around the country participated in the United States championships.

Precision figure skating is the fastest growing of all disciplines, according to the United States Figure Skating Association. The sport combines the classic, graceful movements of figure skating with the thrill of split-second synchronized maneuvers performed by groups of 12 to 24 skaters.

World championships will be conducted starting in 1996, in order for precision skating to become an Olympic event by the year 2002.

Blazing Blazers

Westland Youth Athletic Association crowned its Freshman League and tournament champions last week. In the freshmen bracket, the Blazers completed a storied 15-0 season with a 44-37 victory over the Bullets. Members of the team include: Jeff McKerracher (from left, front row), Jesse Saavedra, Andrew Pfeiffer, Tom Cosgrove, and Terry Pavlich; Second row are Ryan Loftis, Kyle Hayes, Aaron Kierpaul and Brian Mason; in the third row are coaches Mike Loftis, Chet Kierpaul and Terry Mijal. Ex-Belleville star Holshoe is shining for Kalamazoo

A former Belleville High softball star is shining for Kalamazoo College on the diamonds these days.

Heather Holshoe, who made the Tigers a title contender a year ago, has joined the Kalamazoo College softball team with a "big bang". She ended a recent tour of the south by hitting .333 and fielding better than .950.

The Hornets started their season red hot, winning their first three games at the Rebel Spring Games staged in Orlando, Florida.

However, Eastern Connecticut ended the Hornets' winning streak with a 5-2 victory, but Holshoe helped Kalamazoo bounce back in the next game. She drove in the winning run with a seventh-inning single in a 6-5 victory over Manchester, Indiana.

But the Hornets then slumped, hitting a losing skid and falling to their next four opponents, including one-run defeats to Wittenberg, Ohio (3-2) and Wisconsin Stevens Point (4-3). Kalamazoo ended the spring trip on a strong note, however, as they shut out Western Connecticut State, an NCAA Division III regionally-ranked team.

Holshoe, daughter of Jerry Holshoe of Ypsilanti and Gay Holshoe of Belleville, ended the trip with 10 hits, four doubles five runs batted in and a fielding percentage of .952. She batted .333 and was on base .364 percentage of the time. Holshoe is a freshman catcher who started in all 10 games.

Bozyk is net asset to Hornets

Westland's Paul Bozyk is a three-time letter winner who will be returning to the Kalamazoo College's national-title contending tennis team this season.

Bozyk, who plays the number four singles and number four doubles, has a current season record of 8-4 in singles and 3-1 in doubles competitions. He is also 1-0 in singles in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Kalamazoo will be attempting to win a record 57th consecutive title this spring. The Hornets current string of 56 straight championships started in 1936 and is a feat unmatched by any high school, collegiate, professional or amateur team in America.

Kalamazoo captured its 16th straight Great Lakes Colleges Association Tournament championship last weekend, defeating two nationally-ranked teams. After downing Wabash, Indiana 9-0 in the opening round, the Hornets then defeated 13th-ranked Wooster, Ohio 8-1 in the semifinals and 18th-ranked DePauw, Indiana 7-2 in the finals.

Bozyk, a senior health science major, was MIAA champion at fifth flight singles and a member of the all-league second team last year. As a sophomore, he also won the MIAA sixth-flight singles title.

Pastor reviews riches in his life, plight of poor

By Rev. John W. Kershaw

Over the years, I have lived in a number of different houses. The house that was home during my childhood was a 1,000 square foot bungalow with two bedrooms, a bath, and a basement that was divided off into rough rooms. At one point there were nine of us in the family. It was crowded.

Since then I have lived in apartments and parsonages.

The houses have ranged from 1,200 square feet to well over 5,000 square feet. One large home was almost 100 years old, when we moved in. Another was almost new.

About a year ago, my wife and I built our retirement home, a modest modular home in central Michigan. In every case, the houses have been warm and dry, reasonably comfortable in all types of weather and free from vermin and similar pests.

I eat three meals a day and never wonder where my next meal will come from. There were times in my childhood, when I left the table hungry, but I have always had adequate nutrition.

The only food problems that I have had are those that come from eating too well. High blood pressure, high cholesterol, being overweight, diabetic, kidney stones, and a pregnant condition have all told me I eat too much meat, too many sweets, richer food than I should and just plain too much. To say the least, I eat well.

I used to think I was poor. Pastors make much less than many other professionals. I will never have a six figure salary unless inflation makes it happen. But I have more than enough to get by on and to put some aside for retirement.

The plain truth is that by the standards of the world, I am rich.

Because of my mission responsibilities in the United Methodist Church, I have spent short periods of time working in Haiti, southeastern Jamaica (the less affluent part of the island), rural Liberia in west Africa and on a collective farm in Russia.

I have seen first hand the living conditions of others in the core city of Detroit and Kansas City. I have seen what it means to do without. I have experienced what it means to live in fear. I have witnessed hopeless poverty.

And I have come to understand what it means to be rich.

There is a mood in Congress right now, a feeling that reflects a similar mood evidenced in our communities today.

We seem to be anxious to get rid of government waste. We want our taxes to go down. We want our spendable income to go up. If the poor get hurt, that is their problem.

Business and middle class America are about due for

I look at the example of Jesus. He ate with sinners. He took the part of the poor and the oppressed He gave his life for my sins and the sins of the whole world. From the perspective of Easter, the desire to restrain the poor so that I can have more begins to look selfish, even sinful.

some benefits, we feel. There is enough truth in that to make it very appealing.

I look at the example of Jesus. He ate with sinners. He took the part of the poor and the oppressed. He gave his life for my sins and the sins of the whole world.

From the perspective of Easter, the desire to restrain the poor so that I can have more begins to look selfish, even sinful.

Wealth is a matter of perspective. If I want more and more, I will always see myself as poor, and in need of a break.

On the other hand, if I see life from an Easter perspective, if I count the gifts of God's providence and Christ's grace, I begin to see that I really am richly blessed.

Share the blessings of hope and faith. Share in the real gifts of Easter. Share in the joy that comes from the perspective of faith.

Editor's note: The Rev. John Kershaw has been the pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Wayne for the past six years.

Demonstration homes near airport close doors on loud sounds

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A Detroit Metro Airport demonstration home located on the Romulus-Huron Township border was unveiled to the public last Wednesday by Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara.

Just prior to the official cutting of the ribbon at the soundproofed house on Pennsylvania Road by Huron Township Supervisor Chris Gamber, McNamara's voice was drowned out by the roar of an airplane passing overhead.

McNamara had been briefly introduced by Airport Director Bob Braun, but when McNamara tried to explain the economic power of the airport by saying it generated in excess of $7 million a day, his voice was suddenly drowned out by the plane's roar.

Many in the gathering chuckled and almost said in a chorus..."and an awful lot of noise."

Qualified home owners (approximately 2,600) will be invited to visit the two-story home sometime in the near future, where they will be shown a seven-minute videotape outlining the soundproofing techniques that will be employed by airport work crews.

A soundproofing spokesman said new windows and doors were installed and baffle insulation was placed under the roof at a cost of approximately $25,000 for this particular house.

Four airport noise and land acquisition style offices are being located on the second floor of the home, so that invited home owners from Romulus, Huron Township, Taylor, Westland and Dearborn Heights can discuss the prime issues involved in the $120 million noise abatement program.

Representatives of the largest business advocacy organization in the state testified at a House Conservation Committee hearing in support of legislation that would result in a cleaner environment and fewer destroyed businesses.

"Cleanups have been driven by unrealistic and unnecessary standards," said Charlie Owens, State Director of the 23,000-member NFIB (National Federation of Independent Businesses of Michigan). "Rather than achieving a cleaner environment, as lawmakers originally envisioned, companies have been obliterated and contaminated sites abandoned."

NFIB/Michigan supports three house bills (4596, 4697 and 4598) that would move existing cleanup standards to a more risk-based approach.

Owens noted that small-business owners are concerned with one section of the proposed bills that would grant site access and information gathering authority to local units of government. Currently, those powers are exclusive to the Department of Natural Resources.

Eighty percent of the cost of some of the home soundproofing programs is being paid by the Federal Aviation Administration and the remaining 20 percent by Metro Airport.

Other parts of the program are being funded 100 percent by the airport.

Three affected schools have already been soundproofed, McNamara said.

"There are 543 cities, townships and villages in Michigan, and there would be 543 different approaches to site assessment if these powers are granted," Owens said. "It is our concern that local and state authorities will get involved in 'turf battles' over who is running the show. In any such battle, the small-business owner gets caught in the crossfire."

Tate to roar into Hydroplane competition

The 1995 American Power Boat Association Gold Cup Unlimited Hydroplane Race will have more to offer to all boat racing enthusiasts than ever before as the City of Detroit hosts the 80th running of the powerboats on the Detroit River.

This year a minimum of 45 boats will be racing in three different classes during the annual regatta hosted by the Spirit of Detroit Thunderfest. Qualifying runs start May 31 through June 2 with racing beginning June 3 and finals on June 4.

Of course, the unlimited fleet led by returning Gold Cup champion Mark Tate, of Wayne, in the Smokin' Joe's and Chip Hanauer (Seattle, Wa.) in the Miss Budweiser will return the famed Detroit River two-and-one-half mile oval to lead a fleet of an expected 10 unlimited boats.

But this year, after adding another 15 to 20 Grand Prix hydroplanes, add another 25 Unlimited Light entries, and you have the most racing boats to adorn the river in almost 50 years.

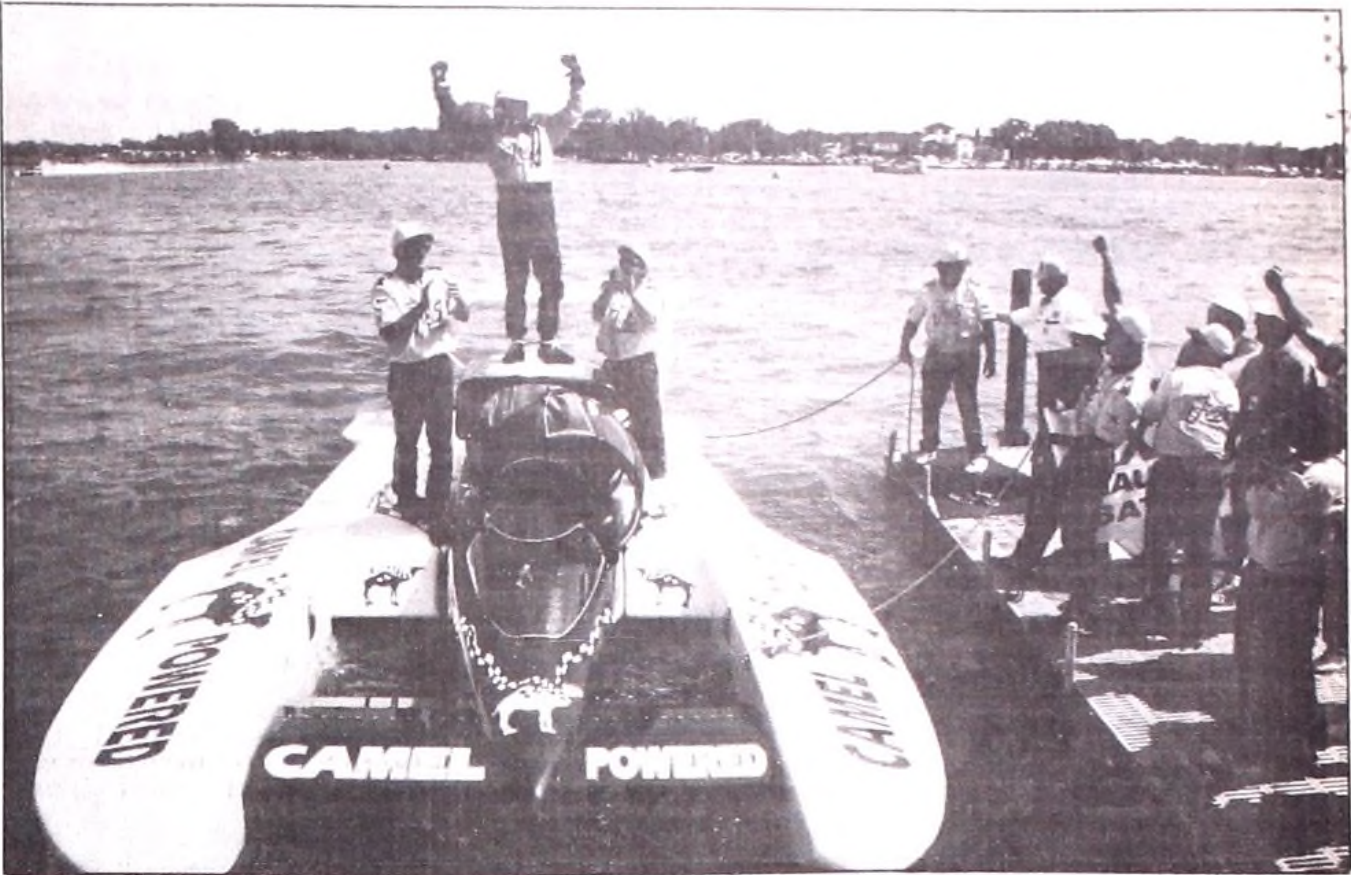

The unlimited boats, powered for the most part by Lycoming Turbine engines used in the Huey Helicopters during the Vietnam War, reach speeds close to 200 mph down the Belle Isle backstretch.

The Grand Prix boats, powered by 426 cubic inch and larger automotive powered engines with modifications, also have been a fixture on the Detroit River since 1977, running the 1 1/4 mile course and hitting speeds in excess of 150 mph.

But this year, the new "Unlimited Light" entries, boats similar in size to the Grand Prix boats but powered by stock 426 automotive powered carbureted engines, running on gasoline, will make their debut on the Grand Prix course.

The Unlimited Lights will hit speeds similar to that of the Grand Prix class.

For ticket information call 313-259-7760.

Wayne resident 'digs' Egyptian art

By KIMBERLY WOLOSKIE
MCN Staff Writer

If you thought you'd have to travel to Cairo before you could see Egyptian artifacts you might consider the city of Wayne first.

Rusty Oswalt, a tool and die maker of 25 years, began creating replicas of Egyptian art after a severely broken ankle forced him to quit his job.

"I was sitting around watching archaeology documentaries and I said to myself 'I can make that. I know I can do that.' But, but I had to learn the secret to make the pieces look and feel like stone," said Oswalt.

According to Oswalt he made a series of contacts before meeting a woman from Wayne who agreed to teach him the methods of replicating Egyptian artifacts.

"I met her through some people in the plaster business. I began taking lessons from her three times a week for a month," said Oswalt.

The artist who taught Oswalt learned the dying art form from her father and grandfather, two of the men responsible for the original design of the Fox Theatre in Detroit. Oswalt believes he is the only one the artist taught before she left Michigan.

The process involves old gypsum (jessee) plaster that is applied as a base coat to the raw molded statue. Oswalt purchases through a manufacturer. The ground stone mixture is blended with the paint and applied to the artifact. The plaster dries like mortar, giving the piece the look and feel of stone.

"The secret is in the paint. If it's not mixed properly the artifact is ruined," said Oswalt.

The former tool and die maker purchases the raw molds from Sam Pacini Manufacturing Inc. in Warren and World Treasures of California.

The pieces he duplicates are considered museum quality verified by a curator that compares the molded statues to the originals the museum exhibits.

QVC, one of the shopping networks, as well as various buyers are interested in the work Oswalt has done.

"It seems in the last three years there's been a big surge in the interest of ancient Egypt," said Oswalt.

The artist is planning on creating larger replicas of four-by-four-foot gold reliefs with the help of others in the molding business.

"I get lots of requests from people who want really big things. I can make full size mummy cases or Egyptian altars," said Oswalt.

- Rusty Oswalt

hopes to open a business in Wayne to display and create his artifacts.

"I truthfully think Wayne is going to experience a renaissance. For the simple fact that more and more people in the art business are opening up shops in the area."

If Oswalt is successful he plans to open his business to local schools interested in the history of Egypt and the distinctive style he has created to duplicate works of art.

"I'd like to put a video together schools could use when they study the history of Egypt or if they'd like to understand how I make the statues look old," said Oswalt.

Oswalt produces replicas that look brand new or as if they were just excavated from a dig in Cairo. Twenty-four carat gold leaf is used throughout the statues to accentuate the richness of the artifacts. "The gold index is going up and down so it's hard to price out the pieces or get a hold of the leaf because of changes in the market," said Oswalt.

The artists current plans include starting a mail order catalog where potential buyers can view his work and order by phone. "I'm discouraged by the price and size of other mail order catalog items. Why pay that type of money for something so small," said Oswalt.

With a lot of help from his two daughters, Julie and Becky, Oswalt is able to concentrate on his work while the women run the business aspect of Egyptian reproductions. Julie is close to graduating with an art major and her contribution includes advertising while her sister Becky oversees the financial end of the business.

Oswalt plans to continue to work out of his home until he can find a larger place to work. Until then he's hoping people find his work as interesting as he does and looks forward to visiting his store in the future. "I can do custom orders or specialty items if that's what people want. There are a lot of different things that can be done with the replicas," said Oswalt.

Editor's note: Information about the Egyptian artifacts or specialty items can be obtained by calling Rusty at 722-1489.

ished second to Wyandotte in 1992 and second to Rouge last year.

It is an impressive run for an impressive program that has not lost a dual meet since 1989.

In 1993, Grosse Ile nipped Rouge by a mere half-point despite the fact that the always-deep Red Devils won only two events all afternoon.

Despite the fact that Rouge was second, then-freshmen Bonner and Grigsby made their presence felt by sharing MVP honors with Roosevelt star Becky Caldwell.

In 1992, Roosevelt was the News-Herald champ, beating Grosse Ile and reversing the one-two finish of the season before.

The meet in 1992 was one of the most balanced in meet history with 11 girls' teams scoring 30 or more points. With Caldwell winning twice and sharing MVP honors with Melvindale's LaQuanda George, the Bears scored 76 points to edge Grosse Ile.

In 1991, Grosse Ile scored in 15 of 16 events and beat Roosevelt by 22 points for the title. Romulus' Tearza Johnson and Aquinas' Jeni Brewer were MVPs.

THE NEWS-HERALD meet advanced its reputation as birth place of college stars during the 1990s by producing George, who is one of the top runners at Western Michigan University, and Brewer, who runs at nationally-known University of Tennessee.

While Grosse Ile has been the girls' team to beat in the 1990s, Rouge has been the boys' team.

Coach Dave Gordon took the Panthers to the meet title in 1991 and to three straight runner-up positions since then.

Unfortunately, Gordon left the Rouge program after last year and it remains to be seen if the maroon-clad Rouge squad will be the same.

Rouge's Ben Benford, now at Michigan State, and Riverview's Tim Strok, now at Yale, were dominant N-H performers in 1992 and 1993. The twosome shared MVP honors with Taylor Center's Rob Bray in 1992 and were co-MVPs in 1993.

Despite those individual accomplishments, Coach Mickey Tur-

ROWING

Bears, Marauders excel in Cincinnati

By Ken Welsch

Sports Writer

Local rowing crews typically hit the water for their first competition of the year at the annual Hebda Cup regatta.

When the Hebda rolls around this year on April 29, though, a few of the crews will already have gotten their feet wet.

Carlson and Roosevelt traveled to the Cincinnati Invitational Saturday and each came home with some early-season medals.

"It gave us a chance to see some of our weak spots, some of our strong spots, and where we need to improve," Carlson Coach Bob Cady said. "It was encouraging."

The Carlson girls' novice eight certainly looks to be one of the team's strong spots, coming away with a bronze medal. Angela Passina, Shane Sheets, Kim Renner, Mary Galambos, Lauren Ford, Andrea Ford, Angela Conroy, Shawn Balowski and coxswain Abbey Balmes formed the third-place team.

Roosevelt had even more success, both with boys and girls crews. Seniors Nick Stawowy and Tim Powser won a gold medal in the men's double, and were matched by the women when Maureen Dunn and Dawn Collins won their race.

The boys also came away with a bronze in both the senior eight and junior eight races.

The senior eight boat consisted of Powser, Joe Gunter, Stawowy, Al Kuderik, Bruce Efav, Mike Stone, Brett Greene, Zac Flachsmann and coxie Ryan Arvin.

Flachsmann, Gunter, Gordon Maille, Jeff Gibbs, Mark Milewski, John Bertino, Nate Burns, Dave Schafer and Arvin manned the junior eight shell.

The women's senior four team of Emily Tims, Renee Brendle, Rebecca Ruffner, Nicola Vettraino and coxie Jamie Yelley took a silver in the senior four race.

"It wasn't bad, though you always hope to do better," Bears Coach Gary Ellison said. "We probably would have done better but we were missing some of our seniors, so overall we were pretty happy."

While both teams will now wait for the Hebda Cup, Cady, in the meantime, will hold a four-person scramble golf outing to raise money for a new shell for the Marauders. For more information on the 18-hole outing to be held this Saturday at the Riverview Highlands, call 283-5018.

leg, too, and by the time Grosse Ile's third runner, Missy Danville, got the baton, Grosse Ile was a whopping 15 seconds behind.

DANVILLE RAN an astounding 2-minute, 31-second leg of the race and carved nine seconds off Jefferson's lead.

That still left anchor runner Maureen Fielder facing an uphill 6-second fight against Jefferson star Jenny Welch.

Welch and her sister, Ann, before her are well known, and they have been stars in the Huron League for years. That didn't stall Fielder, however, as she caught the Jefferson runner with 150 yards to go and blew past her for the victory.

Fielder, like Danville, ran 2:31.

"It was an awesome event," crowed Sims afterward. "And it really took the wind out of their sails. To have a 15-second lead and to give your anchor runner that big of a lead and lose the race is tough for any team. Fielder and Danville were unbelievable. To run 2:31 at this time of year is just fantastic."

The Devils used the momentum from that race, as well as its 27-9 edge in the field events, as a springboard to victory.

The field-event charge was led by freshman Alana Robinson, who continued her jaw-dropping performances by winning the shot (35 feet 2 inches) and the discus (129-4). Jenny Rice and Molly Anderson tied for first place in the high jump, each stopping at 4-10.

LAURA MATTHEWS won the two hurdle events, Breana Kulberg took the 400 and Amy Lagina won the two-mile.

In addition to winning the two-mile relay, Grosse Ile captured the 800 and 400 relays. Running the 800 event were Stephanie Coleman, Kulberg, Danville and Fielder. In the 400 were Coleman, Rice, Anderson and Fielder.

The boys' meet between Grosse Ile did not hold the drama and importance of the girls', but it was a big win for the Red Devils nonetheless.

Ironically, the score of the boys' meet was identical to that of the girls' with Grosse Ile prevailing 78-50.

Counting relay performances, Grosse Ile's Jason Romans was a four-time winner.

He took the long jump, the 400 and ran on both the winning two-mile and 400 relay teams.

Jake Frysinger won the shot and the discus; Nick Morris took the 100 and 300 hurdles; Brad Plonka won the high jump; and Mike Stoker took the 800.

Joining Romans in winning relay efforts were Stoker, Plonka and Brad Biesiadecki in the two-mile relay and Morris, Stoker and Joe Wojewodzic in the 400 relay.

Grosse Ile is off until Saturday when they run at the freshman-sophomore meet at Anderson. Huron League action resumes April 27 against Flat Rock.

MEGA WHITE TRACK

Lincoln Park tops 100 in win vs. Titans

By Joe Slezak
Sports Writer

Lincoln Park's boys' track team did something last week it hadn't done since Gary Poore took over as head coach in 1988 — score more than 100 points in a dual meet.

The Railsplitters (1-1 overall, 1-1 Michigan Mega Conference White Division) topped the century mark with a 108-29 win at Anderson. The meet started April 11, was stopped because of a thunderstorm and concluded one day later.

"We had a chance to run a lot of young kids," Poore said. "They really improved and the (track) bug bit them. You could see it in their eyes. I gave the older kids a chance to coach. The juniors and seniors took a leadership role.

"WE'RE COMPETITIVE, but we're not great. We're a lot farther ahead than two or three years ago."

The Railsplitters got individual wins from Mike Madera in the 1,600-meter run and 3,200, Mike Milatz in the 400 and 800 (2 minutes, 19 seconds), Josh Hammons in the 300 hurdles and long jump, Casey Keil in the 100 and 200 (25.1 seconds), Joe Thompson in the discus and Mark Davidson in the high jump.

Lincoln Park also won three relays — the 400 (Greg Rimsa, Luke Smith, Mike Pacteles and Kevin Maniaci), 800 (Keil, Smith, Rimsa and Steve Hartunian) and 3,200 (Madera, Josh Kleman, Rob Kehr and Marvin Brown).

Second were Pacteles (100, long jump), Frank Zelnik (110 hurdles), Davidson (1,600), Hartunian (400), Kehr (800), John Kurzyniec (3,200), Roger Phillips (shot put) and Smith (high jump).

ANDERSON'S WINNERS were Nick Parish in the shot put (42 feet, 5 inches), Ryan Ballentine in the 110 hurdles (20.2) and the 1,600 relay of Dan Leja, Bill Barnes, Safraz Rampersaud and Kyle Adkins. Second were Ballentine in the 300 hurdles (50.1), Ian Isenegger in the discus (105-9) and Giovanni Delgado in the 200 (26.5).

Even though the Titans are 0-2 both overall and in the White, first-year Coach Tony Mifsud has seen progress.

"They're learning and it's a new experience for them," he said. "Each kid is improving. It's going to be a tough haul, but a lot of them are working hard and doing the best they can with the abilities they have."

Anderson will hold a coed freshman-sophomore meet Saturday. Field events start at 10 a.m. and running events at noon. Tuesday, the Titans will go to Riverview to face the Pirates and White foe Roosevelt. Two days later, Anderson will go to Woodhaven and Lincoln Park will travel to Garden City for White dual meets.

GC trips Trojans

Trenton (0-2 overall, 0-2 Mega White) was edged by Garden City 72-69 April 11.

The Trojans' individual winners were Ryan Piippo in the 800 (2:10) and 1,600 (4:46.15), Phil Nagy in the high jump (5-2), Jay Galea in the 110 hurdles (8.4), Kevin Doran in the 300 hurdles (42.5) and Chris Seaton in the 3,200 (10:45). Trenton also won the 1,600 and 3,200 relays.

Second were Doran in the 110 hurdles (19.1), Seaton in the 1,600 (4:47). Greg Mannarelli in the 400 and

Melvindale improves in loss to rival Jags

By Terry Jacoby
Sports Writer

The Allen Park girls' track and field team evened its record to 1-1 with an easy 83-32 victory over Melvindale April 11. The Jags opened the season with a close loss to Carlson.

Despite the setback, the Melvindale team is showing improvement and had some strong performances.

"We have a lot of first-year runners, but they are the kind of kids that come to practice every day and work hard," Melvindale Coach Mary Raftary said.

Chamia Peterson picked up right where she left off last year as the junior won the long jump (15 feet, 8 inches) and the 400- and 100-meter dashes.

Robin Stansfield was first in the high jump with teammate Kelly Parker taking second. Parker also was second in the 100-meter dash. Roberta Woder was second in the discus and Candy Foreman was third in both the long jump and the 100 dash.

bunch."

Sophomore Kristi Herbst is one of the Eagles' better distance runners and won both the mile and two mile against Annapolis. Sophomore Sara Diepenhorst also runs distance for the Eagles.

Among some excellent sprinters lining up for Kennedy this year will be sophomores Takara Wilson, Faye Bussey, Denaqua Murphy, Alyssa Petry, Kim Bovair and Michelle Patrick. Sophomore Bianca Williams will compete in the hurdles.

Junior Amanda Price will split duty between sprints and hurdles. Senior Brandie Brancheau, who won the 100 dash against Annapolis, will run sprints and in relays.

Among those in field events will be Jamey Coen, Julie Bowerman, Megan McCourt, Walleska Balmaceda, Tracy Veresh, Mary Thill and Holly O'Dey.

Eagles fall to Annapolis

Despite an 83-43 loss to Dearborn Heights Annapolis, Kennedy Coach Barry Waltz is expecting some good things from his 1995 Eagles.

"We are in the process of rebuilding," Waltz said. "We have 12 girls showing up consistently and there are a few others that may end up on the team. But the girls we have show a lot of promise. It's a talented

Carlson runs on

The Marauders remained on track in their chase for a second straight Mega Blue track title with a 64-53 victory April 11 over Dearborn Heights Crestwood.

A number of Carlson athletes chipped in for the win.

Jenny Harold won both the shot put and discus to help rack up points in the field events.

Jerri LaBounty won both the hurdle events and Sharlyne Lammers brought home first-place points in both the mile and half-mile. Tara Teran won the two mile.

The mile relay team of Lammers, Sarah Townsend and Amy and Beth Hulderman also took a first place.

TC girls win last event to top Truman

By Ken Welsch
Sports Writer

They lost some major battles along the way, but in the end the Taylor Center girls' track team won the war.

Running Thursday against Mega White opponent Truman, the Rams came back from an early deficit and capped the comeback with a win in the mile relay to beat the Cougars 57-53. It was the third relay win of the day for the Rams, who also took the two-mile and 400-relay events.

"That's where we won the meet, when we took that four by 100," Rams Coach Mike Kostoff said. "We've been working on our exchanges, and that's where we got them."

The 400 relay team consisted of Ronnie McCleod, Amanda Derome, Sakina Greer and Nicole Scully, who won with a time of 1:05. The mile relay team that put the Rams over the top was run by Melissa Jackson, Elainea Vickstrom, Kristie Turcheck and Lisa Guitart, who finished in 5:49.

Monica Cernia, Lisa Freeman, Jackson and Jennifer McDonald won the two-mile relay in 13:27.

Derome won both the 100 and 300 hurdles for the Rams, and Turcheck took the high jump. Other firsts for Taylor Center included Derome in the two mile, and Guitart in the 400.

Shari Rogers came up big for the Cougars, winning both the 100 and 200 dashes. Sharon Hong won the 800 and mile run, and Shelly Fisher won the discus.

Rails gave the impression that once is enough, running away to an easy 92-36, two-day victory last week.

Rains cut the meet short April 11 after eight events had been run, leaving the final eight to be run Wednesday. The Rails made it clear, though, that no matter what day of the week, they're a tall order for the young Titans.

The two teams will see each other again Monday at the Lincoln Park Invitational, and again at the News-Herald Invitational, the regional meet, and at the Mega White league meet.

"(The Rails) have quality kids across the board," Titan Coach Paul Showalter said. "They don't have an event that you could say they are weak in."

The Rails jumped out to a big lead during the first day, conquering the field events. Renee Powell and Jennifer Cupp finished one-two in the high jump, while Anderson's Jill Baker took third.

THE RAILS SWEPT the shot put and discus events, led in the shot by Holly Sizemore, and in the disc by Jenny Fougereousse. Christina Gratz won the long jump for the Titans.

Heather Montie claimed both hurdling events for the Rails, finishing the 100 in 17.2 seconds, and the 300 in :49. Amy Garbacz was a two-race winner, taking the 100 dash in :13, and the 200 in :28.2.

Powell won the 400 in 1:07.6, Shannon Oakley won the 800 in 2:44.5, and Chris Lancour won the mile in 5:59. Chris Davidson won the mile for the Rails in 13:17.

The Titans and Rails split the four relay events, with Anderson winning the 800 and mile, and Lincoln Park taking the 400 and two mile.

Running for Anderson on the 800 team were Kristie Genton, Katie Lozon, Jennifer Salliotte and Gratz. Tina Bakas, Kristen Shear, Carrie Miller and Lozon won the mile relay.

Trenton wins opener

Running in their first meet this season, the Trenton Trojanettes ran away to a 111-34 win over Garden City April 11.

The Trojanettes didn't take first place only in the discus (in which they took second and third) and in the pole vault (for which they didn't enter anybody).

From there, the meet was all Trenton, which swept the four relay events, and took first-second-third in five different events.

Kristy Littlebury took the shot put, Shelby Adams won the long jump and Miranda Gravel won the high jump to lead the Trojanettes through the field events. Littlebury and Erin Klapp were second and third in the discus, and Klapp and Jacqui Yu were second and third in the shot put.

Jeannie Leung was second in the long jump, and Shellie Prescott was second in the high jump.

Double winners for the Trojans in the running events were Erika Korowin, who won the 1600 and 3200 runs, both times with personal best performances. She ran the 1600 in 5:55, and the 3200 in 13:06.

Colleen Zook swept the hurdling events, winning the 100 in :18.2, and the 300 in :55.2. Other winners for the Trojanettes included Yu in the 100 dash (:13.7), Rachel Martin in the 200 (:28.07) and the 400 (1:02). Andrea Lebar won the 800 in 2:40.8.

The Trojanettes swept five events, including the shot put, 100 dash, and the 1600, 800, and 3200 runs. Behind Yu in the 100 were Adams and Leung. Jenny Perry and Allison Drake finished second and third in the 1600 run, and then swapped positions in the 3200 run. Ethanee Petrucco was second in the 800 run.

The Trojanettes will break until April 27 when they host Dearborn.

Anderson girls top Dearborn

Perhaps there's something to be learned from this Anderson golf team's approach to the game.

"They just go out there and have fun," Titan Coach Ron Gallinat said. "If they win, then great, they win, but they just have fun, and I think it helps them relax."

Of course, winning can make it all the more fun, and so far the Titans are having a ball.

Now 3-1, the Titans grabbed their most recent victory April 11 when they downed Dearborn, 200-213, led by meet medalist Beth Gawlik's 44.

Kelly Harmon was next in for the Titans with a 50, followed by Lisa Abramczyk and Kerry McKenzie.

"They're really coming through for me," Gallinat said. "I'm pleased What I'm getting is golfers who are complimenting each other well."

"They have a good attitude and I think it helps their composure."

Lincoln Park sees Red in opener

By Terry Jacoby
Sports Writer

It wasn't the way Lincoln Park Coach Debbie Howell wanted to start the league season, but maybe the Rails just picked the opener to have their "bad" game of the year. Garden City handed the Rails a 7-2 loss last Wednesday, proving that you have to come ready to play when a Mega Red team lines up on the other side of the field.

"I think our spring break came a little early," Howell said. "We just didn't come to play. We only got two hits the whole game and their pitcher isn't the best in our league."

Senior Carrie Knight, an all-league performer a year ago, didn't have one of her better outings. She hit the first two batters and then gave up a triple as the Rails fell behind early.

Knight then struck out the next three batters.

The Rails opened the season with a doubleheader sweep of Grosse Ile, winning the first game 16-1 and taking the nightcap 15-0.

Knight fired two no-hitters and also had a pair of home runs, a triple and a double. Now that's an impressive afternoon for the Eastern Michigan-bound senior.

Patty Thole also had a home run. "It was a good couple of games," Howell said. "We got everyone in and everyone had at least one hit."

The Rails will play next Wednesday against Wayne Memorial.

Rams open with loss

Call it opening night jitters. The Taylor Center softball team, sporting a new coach and plenty of new players, opened the season with an 8-2 loss last Wednesday to city rival Kennedy.

"I think the whole team was a little nervous," said Coach Corrie Gizicki. "I know we can play better."

Junior Jennifer Sears started and ran into trouble as the Eagles built a 7-0 lead. Junior Janet Natske came in during the second inning and pitched strong in relief, allowing only three hits and striking out five.

The Rams play at Monroe next Wednesday.

Red Devils kick in a winner

By Terry Jacoby
Sports Writer

Grosse Ile girls' soccer coach Dunny Toy has seen it up close during each practice. He also has seen it during each of the Red Devils' five games this season.

It's called improvement and for a young team like the Devils, that's exactly what Toy is looking for. When you're rebuilding, wins and losses don't count as much as hard work and getting better.

"We have been improving steadily and the girls have worked very hard," Toy said.

Last Wednesday, the girls stepped up and kicked one in the win column with a 2-1 victory over host Monroe. The win was the first of the year for the young Devils and improved their overall record to 1-3-1.

Bus rides to Monroe are long and boring, but this trip was worth the journey.

"It was a good match," Toy said. "The team was excited to get that first win under their belt. I felt our defense really played well and kept us in the game."

FRESHMAN STEPHANIE Prechter netted her second goal of the year during the first half. Adrienne Push got credit for the assist.

With the score tied 1-1, Push pushed across the game-winner in the second half.

Jennifer Toy played her usual strong game at midfield and the defense was led by Elke Ullmer, Jamie Vollenweider, Laura Gladish and Jessica Dossdall, Lyz Posa, in her first varsity start, got the win in goal.

Grosse Ile returns to action Tuesday at Belleville and is at home against Carlson April 28.

Warriors rock on

Redford Thurston was supposed to be a tough test for the Warriors, so give the purple and white an A-plus. Senior Melissa Crain scored a goal and dished out a couple of assists in Woodhaven's 5-0 win last Wednesday over visiting Thurston.

Freshman Kari Bremner netted the first goal just five minutes into the contest. Three minutes later, Crain scored her goal to put Woodhaven ahead 2-0.

Late in the first half, junior Tracy Cappel scored, and seniors Stacy Tedora and Stacy Cousino kicked in second-half goals.

Freshman Melissa Banks picked up her third shutout of the year for the Warriors, who improved to 2-0-1 in the Mega Red and 4-1-2 overall.

"They only had three shots on goal," Woodhaven Coach Bob Kellogg said. "Our defense was just awesome."

The Warriors have scored 30 goals already this season and have allowed just five.

Woodhaven plays Monday at Allen Park before playing host to Dearborn next Wednesday.

GR blanks Aquinas

While the Aquinas soccer team continues to learn and improve, the Richard girls continue to play at a high level. The Pioneers seem to be one of those teams that doesn't rebuild, just reloads.

Richard blanked the Raiders 5-0 during a Catholic League match April 11.

"We did a good job of moving the ball and got everyone into the game," said Richard Coach Mike Slowik, whose club led 4-0 at halftime.

Senior midfielder Erin Garrety scored twice for the Pioneers. Mary Sobczak, Mandy Azzopardi and Marsha Henson each scored solo goals.

Wendy Melch had two assists and Charlene Ramsey had an assist.

The Pioneers return to action Tuesday at Cabrini.

Monarchs shut out

Cabrini picked the wrong time for a bad outing.

The Monarchs didn't put on one of their better performances April 11 and paid with a 3-0 loss to Dearborn Divine Child. The Monarchs are 2-2 overall and in the league.

"It was one of the worst games I've seen a Cabrini team play," Coach Frank Mlodzik said. "They scored just two minutes into the game and then they scored again a few minutes later and that really hurt us."

"I think we were a little shell-shocked."

Mlodzik did see improvement in the second half.

"We came back and played a little better," he said. "We got some good shots off but couldn't score."

Cabrini is at home to Richard Tuesday.

Jags unbeaten

The Jags keep rolling.

The Allen Park girls' soccer team kicked its record to 4-0-1 on the season Wednesday with an impressive 3-1 win over Mega White rival Belleville.

The victory showed Allen Park Coach Dan Barnard just how much depth he has this year.

"We were missing six girls because of vacations so I had to bring up some junior varsity players and they did a good job for us," Barnard said.

The Jags, who led 2-1 at halftime, got goals from Alexandra Muzzin, Michelle Nadeau and Jaime Caldwell.

Allen Park will face its toughest test so far this season when Woodhaven (4-1-2 overall) comes calling on Tuesday. The Warriors are unbeaten in the Mega Red.

Trenton catches on to trip Woodhaven

By Ken Welsch

Swinging the bats has never been a major concern for this Trenton Trojanette softball team.

Over the past couple of years, they've proven then can put runs on the board, and many of those same hitters are still with the club.

During that time, though, their fielding efficiency has occasionally

Sadowski had RBI hits in the second inning as the Trojanettes went up 4-0, and Amanda Robledo and Riley had key hits in the third inning to give Trenton six runs.

Meanwhile, Jenny Busenbark, with a solid defense behind her, was taming the Warrior bats. Busenbark gave up only four hits, had seven strikeouts and no walks.

Sadowski led the Trojanettes with two hits, including a triple. Robledo also tripled and Christina Brushaber doubled.

The Trojanettes are 1-2 overall, 1-0 in the Mega White. They'll play Truman Monday and Carlson Wednesday in a pair of Mega White games.

Kennedy drills Wayne

They may not have played many games last week, but the Kennedy Eagles scored enough runs to last them awhile.

The Eagles pounded Wayne Memorial 28-4 April 11 in their only action heading into spring break. Jessica Toma had three hits and three RBI, and Crissy Worley had three hits. Erica Bowman added two hits for the Eagles.

Starting pitcher Andrea Hool went two innings and struck out three batters without allowing a hit. Stephanie Taylor threw two innings in relief, striking out two and giving up only one hit. Junior varsity pitcher Christine Zalinewski pitched the final inning, allowing two hits and striking out one.

The Eagles, 4-1 overall, return to action Tuesday when they play host to Melvindale.

TRACK

Romulus runs record to perfect 4-0

By Joe Slezak
Sports Writer

Mother Nature was able to stop Romulus' boys' track team last week.

Milan, Monroe St. Mary Catholic Central and Wayne Memorial couldn't.

The Eagles scored 63 points to 29 for host Milan and 26 for SMCC in a meet shortened by a thunderstorm on April 11, and they overcame cold and wet conditions to beat Wayne Memorial 74-54 Thursday.

THE TRI-MEET WAS stopped after the 400-meter dash—at about the time the Eagles were really hitting their stride. Coach Norbert Glover was pleased with his team's showing.

"I was really encouraged," he said. "They really surprised me with their handoffs and poise."

He added that a key to his Eagles' 4-0 record has been the veterans' leadership on the young team.

Romulus' individual winners were Jason Dew in the shot put (42 feet 11 inches), Waynard Shreves in the long jump (19-6½), Jeremy Castle in the 110-meter hurdles (15.1 seconds), Ambrose Green in the 100 (11.3) and Larry Jackson in the 400 (52.1).

Thomas Taylor, Maurice Franklin, Tyrone Tabb and Patrick Thomason won the 800 relay (1 minute, 34.46 seconds), and Taylor, Franklin, Nick McKinney and Thomason won the 400 relay (46.01).

SECOND WERE Jamal McCain in the long jump (19-6) and 110 hurdles (15.4), Thomason in the 100 (11.5), and the 3,200 relay of Tyrone Wade, Jason Davis, Paul Boslet and Renaldo Kwolek (9:27).

Third were McKinney in the long jump (19-2½) and 100 (11.7), Shreves in the high jump (6-0), Julius Martin in the shot put (40-7½) and Tabb in the 400 (53-7).

The win over Wayne was impressive for the Eagles because the Zebras are in the Michigan Mega Conference's top division, the Red.

The Eagles' individual winners were Green in the 100 (11.5) and 800 (2:12), Steve Trahey in the 1,600 (5:25) and 3,200 (11:44), Taylor in the 200 (23.1) and McKinney in the long jump (18-11). Romulus also won the 3,200 relay (Wade, Kwolek, Matt Bennett and Davis) in 9:25 and the 1,600 relay (Castle, Green, Taylor and Jackson) in 3:32.2.

SECOND WERE DEW in the shot put (41-6), Maurice Wood in the discus (111-5), Shreves in the high jump (5-11), Castle in the 110 hurdles (16.5), Eric Nunlee in the 100 (11.7), Wade in the 1,600 (5:32), Jackson in the 400 (54.3), Davis in the 800 (2:13.7), Thomason in the 200 (24.1) and Bennett in the 3,200 (11:53).

Third were Martin in the shot put (39-6) and discus, McCain the 110 hurdles (16.6) and Castle in the 300 hurdles (45.2).

The Eagles will compete Saturday at the Dick Waters Invitational at Monroe, and have their home opener Tuesday against River Rouge and Garden City.

lapsed, leaving Coach John Biedenbach to wonder whether, as seniors, some of those bad habits have corrected themselves.

If last Wednesday's 6-1 win against Woodhaven was any indication, the Trojanettes might be on the right track.

THE TROJANETTES stuck in the first inning, when Melissa Riley laid down a bunt single and later scored on a wild pitch.

COLLEGE CREDITS

Senior Darryl Stallworth (Ecorse High) helped Saginaw Valley State University open its outdoor track season by winning the University of Indianapolis Invitational. The former Red Raider won the 100-meter dash in 10.76 seconds and 200 in 21.84.

He was also named the men's running events Most Valuable Performer at the Northwest Ohio Track and Field Championships in Bowling Green after winning the 100 (10.84) and 200 (21.6).

Senior catcher-designated hitter John Kostrzewa (Trenton High) was batting .378 through 11 games for Western Michigan University's baseball team. He had five RBI and three runs scored.

Dave Smith (Taylor/Cabrini High) was a freshman defenseman this season for the Mankato (Minn.) State hockey team.

Smith, who played in 28 games, tied for the team lead among defensemen with three power-play goals. He was third among the Mavericks' defensemen with five goals, 13 assists and 18 points.

The Mavericks (20-13) were ranked No. 4 in the NCAA Division II. Five losses came to Division I teams.

Trenton High center and defensive tackle Brian Daugherty has committed to Kansas Wesleyan University to play football.

"Brian is a solid football player whom we feel is an excellent lineman," Coyotes Coach Brad Jenkins said. "He will develop into a fine frontline player for us."

Kansas Wesleyan is in Salina, Kan.

Theresa Luciw (New Boston/Monroe St. Mary Catholic Central) is a junior catcher/third baseman on the Ferris State University softball team.

She went into this season with a career batting average of .325, a Ferris record. She also holds or shares season Bulldog records for hits (53), doubles (10), home runs (two) and total bases (73).

Last year, she led the team with a .335 average and was second with 28 RBI. The Bulldogs were 28-26 overall and 9-9 in the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference.

Seven Downriver athletes are playing baseball this spring for Wayne State University.

Two of the tri-captains are junior pitcher Matt Horvath (Melvindale/Lincoln Park High) and senior right fielder Mike Magier (Melvindale High).

Horvath, a right-hander, was 5-3 with a 3.22 earned run average, 64½ innings, 54 strikeouts and 40 walks in 10 games last spring. He started nine and completed six. Magier batted .369 with five home runs, 39 RBI, seven stolen bases, 10 doubles and three triples in 39 games last spring. His three-year batting average is .320.

In a recent five-game stretch, he batted .471 with eight hits, five extra-base hits, two home runs, nine RBI, seven runs scored and a 1.059 slugging percentage.

The only other veteran in the group is junior outfielder Matt Kolak (Trenton/Carlson High), who batted .160 with four hits, one double and one RBI in 17 games last year. He's a transfer from Ferris State.

In the freshman class are catcher Mike Bednarz (River Rouge/Mount Carmel High), infielder Jason Copeland (Southgate/Anderson High), outfielder Joe DeLano (Romulus/Huron High) and pitcher Tom Hijeovski (Southgate/Anderson High).

AUTO RACING

Speedway revs up 42nd year

Saturday marks the opening of the 42nd season of racing at the Flat Rock Speedway.

Last year's season champions — Steve Bunge (Ida, late models), Bob Studt (Flat Rock, figure 8) and Carl Bumgardner (Milan, street stocks) — return to defend their titles.

The track will introduce several changes this season, with all figure 8 races being moved to the figure 8 course. There will be no qualifying rounds this year, only heat races determined by a random draw. Heat race dashes will determine the lineups for the 20-lap main events.

The pursuit race, previously part of the figure 8's, will be picked up by the street stock class. The event, Junior Brett Martin (Grosse Ile High) and senior Bret Woodley (Taylor/Truman High) lettered for the Alma College men's swim team this winter.

Martin, who has been chosen as a team co-captain for next season, earned the Scots' Most Improved Swimmer Award for dropping 53 seconds in the 1,650-yard freestyle. He was also on Alma's record-setting 400 medley relay (3 minutes, 47.56 seconds).

which does not count toward the overall point standings, will feature a select group of cars for the 10-lap event.

The late models have added three Saturday shows to their schedules. The 30-lap features will start 20 cars.

A major change will take place off the track. Marcum Promotions will operate all the concessions, taking over from private vendors. Also, no coolers will be permitted in the grandstands beginning June 1.

Regular ticket prices have not changed. The Saturday program tickets are $8 for adults and teenagers, $3 for children ages 6-12. Children under 6 are admitted free.

For the prices of special events, call the Speedway at 782-2480.

CATHOLIC GIRLS TRACK

Gabriel Richard falls to Bishop Foley by two points

By Rick Schulte
Sports Writer

On Gabriel Richard's schedule, the showdown with Madison Heights Bishop Foley is a big one. It has decided league matters the past couple of years.

Last week's meet wound up being a memorable one.

The final score had host Foley winning 59-57. In the final race of the day, the 2-mile run, the Pioneers believed freshman Nicole Greco finished second to teammate Maureen Olle.

Foley, however, scored Greco as taking third, instead.

"It was a decent meet for us," Pioneers Coach Claire Girard said. "We feel we won it fair and square. But I just feel it was an honest mistake."

The matter is scheduled to be resolved by Catholic League officials.

Jocelyn Trupani had another big day for the Pioneers, winning the shot put and discus. Teammates Christine Zielinski and Rachel Franzese finished second and third in the discus.

The Pioneers also got firsts from Shelly St. Jacques in the 100. In addition, Richard won the 2-mile relay (Olle, Jewell Hoscilla, Laura Duchesne and Kristy Symons) and the 400 relay (Beth Lebioda, Rita Spence, Karen Krajewski and St. Jacques).

Richard finished second and third in the following events; Heather Guylas and Kelly LeBoeuf (long jump), LeBoeuf and Jessica Graves (high hurdles), Denise Olle and Hartmann (mile), Symons and freshman Elizabeth Jackson (400) and Hoscilla and Graves (300 hurdles).

In addition, Symons was second in the 800 and Karen Krajewski was third in the 200.

Aquinas rips Gallagher

Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher just didn't have enough girls to keep up with Aquinas.

The Raiders ran to a 76-39 victory, making Raiders Coach Bill Mascaro very happy.

"I was pretty pleased," he said. "They didn't have the numbers, and we're starting to get some decent numbers."

Aquinas sure got some nice numbers, all right. Yvette Girard won the unique combination of the mile run and the long jump. In addition, Stephanie Jones took both the shot put (30 feet 3 inches) and the discus. Lerita Davis continued her impressive year by taking the high jump (5-2) and the 200.

The Raiders run at Melvindale tomorrow and at the University of Toledo Saturday.

TRACK

Raiders' upset bid falls short vs. Gallagher

By Rick Schulte
Sports Writer

Aquinas came close to winning its track meet with Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher. Closer, in fact, than it expected.

The Raiders made a few changes in the lineup and lost only by two points, 59-57. Still, Aquinas Coach Bill Mascaro was upbeat with the meet.

"We're young," he said. "We had some good performances. We didn't do the 300 hurdles, and as it turned out, neither did they."

Jason Thompson was in on three firsts for Aquinas, winning the long jump (21 feet, 2 inches), and was a member of the 400 and 800 relay teams. He also took second in the 100 and 200.

Terrell Springer, Terrence Springer and Thompson were joined by Jeremy Reyna in the 400 relay. Keith Daniels replaced Reyna in the 800.

Brian Wilkerson won the mile and was second in the 2-mile.

The Raiders run at Melvindale tomorrow and at the University of Toledo Saturday.

Pioneers win big

Madison Heights Bishop Foley has improved over last season. It didn't improve enough to make a difference, though, as Gabriel Richard sped to an 85-43 victory.

"We're not as deep as we were last year," Pioneers Coach Dave Steen said. "The team to beat has to be DePorres."

The Pioneers swept the shot, with Adam Mancini winning at 36 feet, 4 inches, and the discus, with Joe Adams winning at 102-10.

Jason Vidaurri won four events, taking the long jump (19-8½, 100 (11.5 seconds), 400 (52.8, in a Richard sweep) and the 200 (23.4).

John Olsen won the 3,200 in 11 minutes, 20.6 seconds. The Pioneers also earned seconds from Matt Haycox in the high hurdles, Tom Watkins in the 1,600 and Davien Soderquist in the 300 hurdles.

In addition, Richard won the 1,600 and 3,200 relays (3:56 and 9:26.1). Richard faces Beverly Hills Detroit Country Day and Lutheran Westland Saturday.

"That's going to be our toughest challenge, aside from the DePorres meet," Steen said.

Turcheck leads Rams

Taylor Center's Chris Turcheck vaulted to a school record performance at Saturday's Mansfield (Ohio) Relays.

His effort of 14 feet, 6 inches got him second place among nearly 40 pole vaulters. It was the Rams' best individual performance, one that impressed TC Coach Mickey Turcheck.

"That's a great meet," he said. "I'm very pleased with that."

With a difficult field, the Rams were unable to make the cut in several other events. But they did produce some solid numbers.

Dan Hoerle ran the mile in 4 minutes, 41 seconds. Zak Chmiel was clocked at 2:05 in the 880 and Chris Turcheck posted a mark of 51.4 seconds in the 440.

In the field events, Ed Somerville looked good in a pair of events, with throws of 49-10 in the shot and 137-0 in the discus.

The Rams compete Saturday at the Monroe Relays.

TC, which is low on depth and literally has to forfeit their dual meets, still had a few highlights in a recent Mega Red loss to Belleville.

Chris Turcheck won the 400 (53.1) and teamed with Chmiel, Jim Hoerle and Dan Hoerle to win the 2-mile relay.

Turcheck also finished first in the Huron Relays and Spartan Relays in the pole vault.

The Rams also got a pair of firsts from Somerville, a junior, in both the shot put (52-0) and the discus (150-0). Chmiel won the 800 in 2:08 and Eric Pawlak won the mile (4:48).

Eagles get even

The Kennedy boys' track and field team evened its record to 1-1 with a 75-61 victory over Dearborn Heights Annapolis April 11.

"We were down 24 points after the field events, and because we only have 15 kids, everyone had to do four events," said Kennedy Coach Will Kearney.

The hard work paid off with a victory.

Senior Dana Mitchell led a sweep in the 100-meter dash. Ricky Cort was second with Nate Boyd running third. Mitchell also won the high jump.

Senior Jon Adair took care of the distance events, winning the 800 run, the mile and the half-mile. You can be sure he was tired by the end of the day.

Chris Pate also picked up plenty of points for Kennedy. Pate won both the 400 dash and the 200 dash. Cort was second with Boyd third in the 200.

The Eagles also won three relays.

Kennedy's season opened March 30 with an 82-44 loss to Redford Thurston. The Eagles compete Saturday at the Monroe Invitational.

Final four finishers

The Trenton St. Joseph seventh- and eighth-grade girls' basketball team completed its season with a 20-1 record, making the Final Four of the CYO tournament before losing to Northville Our Lady of Victory. St. Joe's also won the CYO Downriver Division title, plus district and regional titles. In addition, St. Joe's won tournaments at Thanksgiving and Christmas. Team members in the front row are Melissa Van Goethem (left), Danielle Landolt and Lindsay Livernais. In the middle row is Allyson Dewar (left), Amy Anderson, Jenny Brown, Lindsey Weeks, Jessica Toth, Beth Ann Bass and Lauren Reed. In the third row is Coach Jim Duffy, Jackie LaPointe, Beth Roller, Sara Elmore, Mollie Hunter, Mary Anne Potok, Carolyn Grutza, Beth Ann Rourke and Coach Bill Everett. Coach Jessica Glavin is missing from the photo.

MTW bouts returning to Sheridan in Taylor

Those wild men of Midwest Territorial Wrestling (MTW) will be back at it Saturday night at the Sheridan Center in Taylor.

Promoter Gary Woronchak has lined up another fine eight-bout card, headlined by the main event, a tag-team bout featuring MTW individual champ Bruiser Bedlam.

Bruiser will be teamed with Judge Dredd and they will challenge the current MTW tag-team champs Ale

Snow and Ray "Crippler" Roberts. "Bruiser id, of course, MTW champ and I guess he wants all the gold," Woronchak said.

Seats are $13 ringside and $10 for the bleachers. Doors open Saturday at 6 p.m. and wrestling begins at 7. For more information, call 374-3900.

SOFTBALL

Light and Life cruises to 5-0 start

By Scott Salowich
Sports Writer

While spoiling for a fight, the Light & Life softball team has been battering its sparring partners.

The Crusaders cruised through a doubleheader with visiting Warren Macomb, Christian Thursday to run their record to a sweat-free 5-0.

"We're anxious to see some tough competition," said Light & Life Coach George Kennedy. "We've done well, but we haven't played any really good teams yet."

"The good thing about this team is that the girls haven't lost concentration. The haven't been goofing off and they haven't come down to the level of the competition."

THEY'VE JUST pounded the ball, played solid defense and enjoyed good pitching.

All three of those talents were on display Thursday.

In the first game, Robyn Pitman struck out 11 and threw five innings of no-hit ball in an 18-1 victory.

The freshman got a little wild in the third inning, however, and that's what cost her the shutout.

Already in possession of a comfortable 7-0 lead, thanks to four Light & Life runs in the first and three more in the second, Pitman hit a batter, gave up her only walk of the game and hit another batter to load the bases.

A BOUNCE OUT plated the visitors' only run of the game.

But that proved to be way too little, too late. The locals answered with a six-run rally in the bottom of the third and added five more in the fourth.

Kathy Koziol went 4-for-4 with four RBI to lead the hit parade. Carolyn rule had three hits and Denise Weese a pair and each of them also knocked in four runs.

The nightcap, a 15-0 Light & Life victory, went even quicker.

"THERE WAS A storm coming, so we agreed to call the game if we got ahead by 15 after three innings," said Kennedy. "We made sure we got to 15 fast."

Kendra Kimberlin was the winning pitcher. She threw three innings of no-hit ball and fanned three.

Kristy Kennedy wielded the biggest stick, knocking in six runs with a three-run triple and a three-run homer. Rule drove in four runs with a double and a single.

Things should heat up next week when the Crusaders host Inter-City Tuesday and visit Baptist Park Thursday. They'll also host Detroit Evangel on Friday.

INTER-CITY finally opened the season Thursday and the wait proved fruitless as the Chargers dropped a 3-2 decision at Toledo Emanuel Baptist.

Christin Claypool pitched a no-hitter, but was touched for three unearned runs in the fourth inning and suffered the loss.

"We made five errors in the game and four of them in the fourth," said Inter-City Coach Larry Claypool. "That's how they scored all their runs."
